The Sea Cliff Controversy

Kate Stoddard's Confession a Fiction.

Tragic Love Affair.

Novel Mode of Quieting a Delirious Patient.

NEW YORK, August 23, 1873.

The Sea Cliff Controversy.

No proposition has yet been made to submit to arbitration the controversy between the Sea Cliff Association and the managers of the Beulah Mission. In regard to the defence set up by the former, the latter characterizes it as grossly incorrect in every essential particular, and say among the few truths admitted by the defence were some very gross misstatements. Mrs. Lander, one of the managers, says that in her first interview she appeared in behalf of a clergyman who had purchased land at Sea Cliff and feared that he would be swindled. The controversy continues the absorbing theme in Methodist circles.

How a Doctor Quieted a Patient.

Some commotion has been caused in Brooklyn from statements made that Mrs. Christiana Longdon, aged 45, had died from a severe castigation at the hands of Dr. Jacob Geestl. It appears that the woman has been in poor health for some time, and a few days ago got a fall. In the evening she was delirious, and the following morning was a raving lunatic. The Doctor was called, and as the woman, according to the statements of her married daughters, would not be still, the Doctor tied her hands behind her back, threw her on the sofa and whipped her quiet with a rope or strap. The woman soon afterwards became paralyzed, and in that state died.

Examination of the Padrone Motto.

At the examination of Motto, the Italian Padrone, to-day, by the United States Commissioner, his counsel asked for his discharge on the ground that the Court had no jurisdiction, and that not being a citizen, Motto could not be tried under the civil rights act. The District Attorney held that the defendant, being an inhabitant of the country, was amenable for violations of its law. The Commissioner said that he had doubts as to his jurisdiction, however, and he would continue the examination, and at its close would take the papers.

Tragic Love Affair.

Henrietta Utz resides with her father, a practicing physician, in Brooklyn, who objected to her keeping company with one Jno. Smith. Yesterday afternoon Henrietta and her lover met, and soon the angry father appeared, and he went for John with tongue and cane. Jas. Fries came to the assistance of the father, and Henrietta made for Fries, the result of which was that Henrietta gave bail to day to answer a charge of stabbing Fries, who was said to be too severely wounded to appear in Court. The father became her bondsman.

Kate Stoddard's Confession a Fiction.

A statement is now made that Kate Stoddard's confession, which was published some time ago, accusing herself of being the murderess of Charles Goodrich, was police fiction to delude the alleged murderer Roscoe into the belief that the woman Stoddard stood accused, and condemned herself to save him, so that he need not fly from justice. The so-called confession was put forth by Commissioner Jourdan and Ex Chief of Police Campbell, of Buffalo.

Ruffians Come to Grief.

As Roundsman John Morris was returning home from his vacation last night, he was attacked by two men in West Forty-fourth street, and knocked down six times. To finish the fight, one of the men drew a revolver and fired at Morris, but the shot missed. The officer then closed with his chief assailant and wrenched the pistol from him, and with the butt beat the two meek enough to march them before him to the station house.

Vitriol Throwing.

As Walter Gibson, proprietor of the Harlem Local, was entering his office last evening, an unknown person flung a cup of vitriol or muriatic acid full in his face, probably destroying the sight of one, if not both, of his eyes. The perpetrator of the deed jumped into a buggy standing near, in charge of a confederate, and disappeared. Revenge for personal attacks made by Gibson in his paper is supposed to have prompted the attack.

Bank Clerk Robbed.

John T. Robin, 18 Exchange Place, yesterday sent his clerk Loftus Francis to the Metropolitan Bank to collect a gold check for $7,783. The paying teller gave him the gold certificates and eighty-eight dollars coin, but on Francis returning to the office, he missed his certificates, and said he had either been robbed or had lost them. He was arrested.

Stolen Money Recovered.

Three bootblacks were arrested to-day, and in the possession of one was found the fifty-three hundred dollars in drafts and a portion of four hundred and seventy dollars in greenbacks which Captain Blake, of Chicago, lost in Saratoga on July 31st.

POLITICAL.

The Republican Campaign Opened in Ohio—Senator Morton on the Back Pay.

CINCINNATI, August 23.—Senator Morton, of Indiana, and Governor Noyes, of Ohio, opened the Republican State campaign at Athens, Ohio, to-day. The meeting was a large one, said to be the largest Republican gathering in that locality since the war. The main front of the stand bore the motto, "Ohio welcomes Indiana's great war Governor," while over the arched entrance to the campus of the Ohio University, where the meeting was held, were the words, "Noyes and Victory." At half-past-one, Hon. John Welch, President of the meeting, introduced Senator Morton, who was followed by Governor Noyes. Senator Morton delivered his speech while sitting, and both gentlemen were listened to with close attention, and at the end of Senator Morton's remarks on the "salary grab," the following occurred:

Judge Plantz said: "It has been reported here, Senator, that you have personally accepted the back pay. Will you explain?"

Governor Noyes here said: "A note had been handed up from the crowd, asking what he has done with his back pay. He feels a little delicate about answering, but I think we will press the question."

Senator Morton then said: "Well, I can say I have not taken it, and never expect to. [Cries of 'Good, we will vote for you,' and loud applause.] Immediately after the passage of the bill I had an interview with my distinguished colleague, Mr. Pratt, of Indian, and we there agreed that we would not take it, believing that the principle involved in the back pay was not a sound one, and I desire expressly to say that while I retain that view myself, and argued against the principle of back pay, it is due to other members of Congress who voted and received it to say that they thought they had a right to it, that what they did was sanctioned by precedents, by votes, and the actions of many of the ablest men who have gone before them in the nation. It is a matter upon which men have a right to differ, and differ honestly. I have simply stated my convictions, while I want to do justice to their motives."

SCIENTIFIC.

American Association for the Advancement of Science.

PORTLAND, ME., August 23.—At the morning session of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, S. H. McCallester, of Akron, Ohio, and nine others were elected members. Ten new papers were received and referred. Section B was divided into two subsections of Biology and Geology.

A committee was appointed to memorialize Congress in regard to the preservation of forests.

The association afterwards broke up into sections. Discussion on Professor Fowler's anti-evolution paper was continued in section A by Dr. Dawson and Professor Morse. The session was brief and no new points were brought out.

Dr. Dawson then gave a description of a specimen of sigullaria, showing marks of fructification.

Prof. Wheelden read a paper on the Arctic regions, then on geography, climate, ocean currents, and other phenomena considered with reference to the atmospheric theory of an ameliorated climate and open polar sea. He did not consider that the phenomena sustained the theory.

RIVER DISASTER.

The Steamer George C. Wolfe Exploded.

Statements by the Captain and a Lady Passenger.

Complete List of the Lost, Injured and Saved.

HELENA, August 23.—The steamer George C. Wolfe blew up at St. Francis Island about two o'clock yesterday afternoon. Twelve persons are known to be lost, and fifteen wounded. The officers were all saved except the second engineer, who was on watch at the time of the explosion, and is missing. The lady passengers were all saved. Mr. Nelson, from Shreveport to Memphis, was drowned. Mr. Dawson, wife and two children, deck passengers for Tupelo, Mississippi, were all killed. The cabin was blown to pieces. The hull can be saved. Dan Sullivan, of Memphis, who was on board, was saved.

(Signed) GEORGE MALONE,
Captain of "G. A. Cheek."

MEMPHIS, August 23.—A telegram from Helena, dated ten o'clock, says: The passengers and crew of the steamer Wolfe are still on St. Francis Island, waiting for an up-river boat.

The place where the steamer blew up is known to river men as the "Graveyard," being the same place where the Pennsylvania and the St. Nicholas blew up, and the T. L. McGill was burned. The Wolfe was from Shreveport for St. Louis. Capt. Henry S. Carter was commander, and Joseph H. Widen clerk.

ST. LOUIS, August 23.—The insurance on the steamer George C. Wolfe is as follows: Franklin, Peabody and Aetna, of Wheeling, $2,500 each; National and Enterprise of Cincinnati, $4,000 each; Eureka of Cincinnati, $2,500 and Commercial of Cincinnati, $2,000.

The Captain's Account.

MEMPHIS, August 24.—The steamer Julia arrived here about eleven o'clock to-day, bringing most of the survivors of the ill-fated George C. Wolfe. Among them is Captain Henry S. Carter, her commander, who was considerably bruised about the head, and left leg badly bruised. Captain Carter states that a short time before the explosion he had gone to his room to take a nap, leaving the mate on watch, and the first he knew of the accident he felt himself lifted into the air with a severe shock, and fell with the debris on the lower deck. As soon as he could extricate himself he glanced around and saw that the forward part of the cabin and texas had been blown away aft of the boiler, and that some timbers had taken fire. His first thought was to extinguish the flames, which, with the aid of a few others and a heavy rain which was falling at the time, he soon succeeded in doing. In the meantime, a man who had been but slightly injured, seeing that the wreck had drifted near shore, jumped out with a hand line and made her fast, when it was found that the boat had been but little injured, except as already stated. As soon as the fire was extinguished everything possible was done to relieve the sufferers.

The captain states he had only ten or twelve cabin passengers, only one of whom was lost, Mr. Nelson, a piano tuner, from New York, aged about sixty. Owing to the condition of Captain Widen, clerk, who was severely burned about the chest and throat, it was impossible to obtain a list of the passengers from him, and his books were all lost.

A Lady Passengers' Experience.

Miss Rebecca Cohn, of Jefferson, Texas, who was accompanied by her cousin, W. Salomensky, of Paris, Texas, states that she was on the forward guard of the boat, and owing to the severity of the storm which was raging, remarked "Let's go into the cabin," and just as she rose the explosion occurred, and she was blown into the river. Seeing a man near her, she grasped him by the neck and he told her to catch his left arm, or she would drown both, which she did, and soon after a spar came floating by, which he seized, and they held to it, floating down the river for a long distance, till the barber of the boat came to their assistance with a pole, which her preserver caught; and still holding on to the spar they were landed on shore. Miss Cohn was considerably bruised. She could not learn the name of the man who saved her, but he was one of a party of four belonging to the Trans-Atlantic Circus.

The passengers speak in the highest terms of the conduct of the officers, especially Captain Carter and the steward. Notwithstanding that the former was severely injured, he was most active in the work of relieving others and extinguishing the fire.

The Casualties.

The following is a list of the lost as far as ascertained: Peter Helpler: second engineer; Mr. Nelson, of New York; Mr. Dawson, wife and two children, of Shreveport; J. H. White, of Michigan, belonging to the Trans-Atlantic Circus; and seven colored rousters, four of whom were found and buried.

The following are the wounded, and all reside in St. Louis, except when otherwise stated: Captain Carter; Jos. H. Widen, clerk, severely on the head and chest, James Donahue, pilot, left leg badly sprained; James Conahan, bruised about the head; Cale Borea, pilot, slightly on the head and body; John Courson, engineer, right shoulder sprained; McCarthy, barkeeper, slightly bruised and scalded; Hiram Mahaffy, stewart, slightly; Jas. Smith, third cook, left arm and foot scalded; Mrs. Frisble, Shreveport, cut in right side; her daughter Lina, ankle sprained.

The Unhurt.

The following are unhurt: Mrs. Freeman and two children, of Alabama; Miss Files, Shreveport; Mr. O'Ber, St. Charles, Missouri; T. B Ellis and lady, Le Bowen, Joe Moore, Charlie Freehouse, M. L. Baunagan, Ira Center, Ed Hogan, M. B. Williams, M. L. Saville, Eliza Thompson, Sig Jackson, and the following hands: Willis Wood, Frank Thorp, James Dawson, George Harper, James Jones, Bill Burgett, Ben. Banks, Charles Sheyrus, Alex Julian and John Cousins.

In Hospital at Helena.

The following colored rousters are in the hospital at Helena, badly hurt: Billy Burton, of Nashville; Robt. Hansby, St. Louis; P. Reedy, Bowling Green, Ky.; Isaac Demson, New Orleans.

George Chapman, colored, of New Orleans, was blown overboard and drowned.

Who is to Blame?

The engineer states that Helpler, the engineer on duty, was one of the most reliable and competent men he ever saw, and could give no theory as to the cause of the explosion. The last seen of Helpler was by the carpenter, who saw him try the gauge, and just as he put down the cock the explosion occurred.

Persons on shore who saw the explosion state that boards and fragments of timber were blown sixty feet into the air.

Captain Carter and the survivors speak in warm terms of the assistance rendered by the officers of the Cheek and Allen in relieving their wants. Second clerk Ed. Black and mate Harry Bush and the steward were left in charge of the wreck. The others left for St. Louis on the Julia.

PHILADELPHIA.

Investigating the Irregularities at the Morgue.

PHILADELPHIA, August 23.—A hearing was had to-day in the case of Deputy Coroner Sees, Superintendent of the Morgue, Baxter and McEwen, the driver of the Coroner's wagon. The two former are charged with trafficking in dead bodies, and the latter with robbery. This case grows out of the discovery of the body of the late Mr. Munce. The testimony showed that a gold watch had been stolen from the body of Munce, and pawned by McEwen; that the body was removed to the college with the clothes, and the Superintendent of the Morgue failed to keep a record of the clothing or property, as required by law. A witness testified that Baxter looked a little like the man who took Munce's body to the college, and that he had frequently taken other bodies to that place. There was no direct evidence against the deputy coroner, but he and Baxter were held for a further hearing. McEwen was committed.

THE PRESIDENT'S SILVER WEDDING.

Private Celebration of the Event at Long Branch.

The first quarter of a century of the married life of President Grant was celebrated at Long Branch on Friday last. Twenty-five years ago the present head of the nation, then a simple captain in the army, was wedded in St. Louis to Miss Julia T. Dent, daughter of Frederick Dent, a farmer, who, taking the world placidly and contentedly, with a moderate competence, lived a simple, quiet life on a small farm within seven miles of St. Louis. At that time Miss Dent was a young girl of about fifteen, not regularly handsome, and little versed in the ways of the fashionable world, but she was kind of heart, and devoid of the coquetry and nonsense so characteristic of the girl of the present period. Her chief delight was the discharge of household duties, and the innumerable things that enter into the daily routine of domestic affairs had her loving attention.

THE MARRIAGE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO.

In August, 1848, after four years since first they met, Captain Ulysses S. Grant was married to Miss Julia T. Dent, eldest daughter of Mr. Frederick Dent, in the Methodist church of St. Louis. The marriage was as undemonstrative as the courtship. There were only four persons present at the ceremony, but there was something that made up for the absence of pomp and show, and where that is all things else may safely be dispensed with—true love. After a short leave of absence, Captain Grant returned to his regiment at Sackett's Harbor, whither he also brought his wife.

Since first he became of commanding notice before the American people on the present hour, has been before the public as under a glass case, plain for all to see. It has been a delightful picture of conjugal and filial love, faith and happiness, and it will surely be wished, by friend and foe alike, that whatever may be his fortune as a politician, he may live to celebrate his golden wedding, too. All the Cabinet officers were present, and a number of private friends. The affair was of an informal character, and there was much merry-making.

HIS DOMESTIC LIFE

McKEESPORT.

Growth and Prosperity of the Town—The Proposed Water Works—The People to Vote on the Question—Recent Improvements, &c

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

McKEESPORT, August 21st, 1873.

I judge (whether correctly or not, remains to be seen) that a few items of news from this ancient borough, might not be altogether unacceptable to you and the numerous readers of the "GAZETTE." I have concluded, according to the best of my ability, to furnish a brief synopsis of the most interesting and important events which occupy mostly the public mind of this place at present. This important town, with its five or six thousand inhabitants, its costly and elegant buildings, extensive and valuable manufactories, is entirely dependent for its water supply for general use and in case of fires, on a few deep and easily exhaustible private wells, distributed here and there through the borough. The question of the erection of a water works has been agitated time and again, especially after the occurrence of a fire, but it would soon be dropped, until we would again be visited by another fire. However, about three months ago some of our most enterprising business men, headed by W. D. Wood, Esq., recognizing the importance of water works to our rapidly increasing town, and the bearing which such a works would have in stimulating the future growth and prosperity of the place, took the matter in hand with a determination to have it accomplished; and as a preliminary step, a petition was headed and presented to the citizens for their signatures, praying Council to appoint a committee to prepare a plan, to ascertain the probable cost, and prepare a general report on the subject to be presented to Council and the citizens for their consideration, and to enable all to act intelligently in the premises. The committee was appointed and went to work with a will, and the result of their labors is before us. The report is a very carefully prepared document, giving a comprehensive and a detailed account of the most minute items. A special meeting of Council was held Friday evening last, for the purpose of hearing and receiving the report. The report was read and accepted and its recommendations acted upon. The same committee was continued to carry on the work. An election will be held on the 6th of next month, at which the citizens will have an opportunity to vote for or against the project. I would just here suggest to the members of Council the propriety of calling a public meeting at one of the halls in town, for the purpose of explaining everything about the project and enforcing on the minds of citizens the importance of the works, and their duty as tax payers, to vote on the day of election either for or against the undertaking. The estimated cost of the works complete, is $84,000.

RECENT IMPROVEMENTS.

The truly elegant and costly building that the National Tube Works Company are erecting to replace the one destroyed by fire about six months ago is rapidly approaching completion. I am informed that it is the intention of the managers to commence operations next Monday with a complement of five hundred hands, a consummation devoutly wished and longed for by all our tradesmen.

A necessity which has heretofore been sorely felt by our community has recently been supplied, namely: a first-class planing mill, sash and door manufactory, which has been erected by the Messrs. Wampler & Gemmill; their works are situated in the Third ward and are very extensive. They have one double surface planer, one double surface flooring machine, one re-sawing machine, tenanting, moulding and morticing machine, circular and gig saws. The firm has introduced a "new thing" in this locality in the shape of a labor-saving apparatus, namely, an exhaust fan, which takes all the shavings and saw dust from the different machines and conveys it to the boiler house and deposits it among the coal ready to be shoveled under the boilers. Everything in and about the mill is in complete order and works like a charm. The firm has reason to feel proud of their mill.

Another improvement which is on the eve of completion is the new forge of the Messrs. W. D. Wood & Co. The forge is intended for the manufacture on a new principle of the Russia sheet iron, for which this firm is now so celebrated all over the country. W. D. Wood, Esq., the senior member of the firm, has obtained letters patent for his invention, and is confident that he can produce an article of sheet iron equal, if not superior, to the Russian article itself. Success to him.

As you are aware that consolidation is the order of the times almost everywhere, the "contagion" ultimately reached this place, and during the last session of the Legislature, after considerable wrangling on the subject, the friends of consolidation succeeded in getting an act passed annexing a considerable portion of the adjacent township to the borough, and now we have a corps of engineers surveying and laying out and opening streets through our new acquisition, and the result is, that there is considerable ill feeling and acrimony indulged in by some of those who fancy that they have been unfairly dealt with. However, we trust that a short time hence we will witness complete harmony and good will prevailing.

The very rapid growth and expansion of the town and the consequent increased demand for gas light, have compelled the gas company to increase their capacity, and to enable them to do so, the company purchased an acre of ground on the river shore, where they are erecting a gas holder of three times the capacity of their old one. The brick work of the pit is finished, and the contract for the holder has been awarded and is to be ready in time to supply the increased Winter demand for gas.

A rumor is afloat that the Car Company has purchased land near the Glass Works, and that they are going to remove their shops there. If it is so they have done a wise thing for themselves and also for the borough.

School commences the first Monday in September. All the teachers have been appointed.

The young men composing the Enterprise Library Club propose taking an excursion trip to Brownsville next week.

Our worthy postmistress is particularly happy at present in anticipation of soon being domiciled in her elegant and commodious new office.

SAM. HOFFMAN.

The inimitable Sam Hoffman is himself again since he has got rid of the big elephant in the shape of a barber shop, which he had on his hands a week or two ago. Sam is a genius and a philanthropist, always ready and willing at all times to extend a helping hand in case of necessity. Sam is the owner of the only fireengine in the place, and at all fires he does effectual service with his Little Giant. Sam is the auctioneer "par excellence" of the town, when there is no remuneration for the services; but it is at his vegetable and fruit stand his most shining qualities are shown in all their splendor. May his shadow never grow less.

RECREATION AND PLEASURE.

W. E. Harrison, Esq., the Assistant Internal Revenue Assessor of this place, has taken a vacation from business, and has hied himself to Greenville, Mercer county, Pa., for relaxation and recreation. May he and his estimable lady, who accompanies him, have their full measure of enjoyment.

B. B. Coursin, Esq., of the McKeesport Times, was also seeking recreation and pleasure in some of the eastern summer resorts. Yours, &c.,

MATHALES.

PHILADELPHIA STARVING CASE.

Evidence of Most Shocking Cruelty to a Young Girl by her Step-mother and Step-sister.

The investigation of the horrible starving and cruel treatment of Mary Elizabeth Rowland by her step-mother, Josephine Rowland, and step-sister, Sarah Jane Baptiste, was renewed in Philadelphia on Friday last. The poor girl resided with the above at 705 Dicklason street, and escaped from her home covered with filth and nearly dead with starvation. She took refuge with a neighbor, to whom she related that for six months past she had been confined to her room, deprived of food, except foul bread and water once a day, and for several days before her escape had been deprived of all food.

The neighbors of the Rowlands, when they resided in Worth street, below Fifth, testified to the horrible treatment to which the poor girl was subjected, and it was a common report that she did not receive proper nourishment. On more than one occasion she was observed to take musty and mouldy scraps from the slop bucket, which she ate ravenously. In winter she would wander around the yard barefooted, and almost naked. Testimony was offered to show that the girl was of good character previous to her father's death, and respected by all who knew her. She was present at the hearing, but was unable to stand, and had to be supported while being led to a chair.

On being sworn, she testified as follows: I am 19 years old; my step-mother and step-sister tied me in the room, with my hands behind my back; I was given only one meal a day, except on Easter and Christmas, when I got two; I was not permitted to go to the yard when I ought to; I have never been treated well, but particularly since last Christmas.

THE MOST TERRIBLE EVIDENCE

against the parties were the clothes found upon her by Mrs. Wilson, which this noble and generous woman showed to the court to-day. They cannot be described. Their stench penetrates every part of the room. The people assembled there turned away their faces. The outer garments were a filthy mass of rags—dirty rags, filled with vermin. The under garments were nothing but shreds, stained all over with a scaly substance of the most noxious character, and when the poor girl came to give her testimony every cheek was ashed, for it was with difficulty that she said a word. Her emaciation was terrible. She was a wavering, bloodless skeleton, and that was all. Never have we seen an audience so affected. Almost every soul, we really believe, felt an impulse to arise and crush the inhuman fiends who had brought an innocent girl to such a wreck, and we believe every soul would have regarded such an act fully justified in heaven. She was very, very weak; she could scarcely speak, and there had already been so much evidence to prove the purity of her character and the extent to which she had suffered that the Alderman rendered her examination as brief as possible, after which she returned to the home of her sister, and her persecutors were locked up.

The defendants, together with the son of Mrs. Rowland, William, scarce 14 years of age, who had a hand in the cruelty, were held under $3,000 each to answer at court.

THE Warren Constitution of last week says: Last Sunday morning, about nine o'clock, a very distinct shock of earthquake was felt in Sharon. It lasted probably ten seconds, and created much excitement. At Heitman's drug store bottles were shaken from the shelves—doors were thrown open, and a stampede from houses ensued. The same shock was also experienced by some living in the city.

SECOND EDITION.

Four O'Clock.

THE CAPITAL.

The Fate of the Modocs.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.

WASHINGTON, August 23, 1872.

The Modocs Sentenced.

The War Department promulgated in general orders the finding and sentence in the case of the Modoc captives, Captain Jack, Schonchin, Black Jim, Boston Charley, Barncho, alias One-Eyed Jim, and Sloluch, alias Cox, who were tried by the military commission for the murder of General Canby and Commissioner Thomas, and for assault with intent to kill other Peace Commissioners, are found guilty of the specifications and charges, and sentenced to be hanged. The proceedings have been approved by the President and Secretary of War.

In the text of the general order, specification first, under the charge of murder in violation of the laws of war, recites that they, the Indians commonly known as Captain Jack, Schonchin, Boston Charley, Black Jim, Barncho, alias One-Eyed Jim, and Sloluck, alias Cox, members of a certain band of Indians known as Modocs, which band, including the prisoners above named, was at the time hereinafter alleged engaged in open and flagrant war with the United States, under the chief command of said Captain Jack, did, as representatives of said Modoc band, meet under a flag of truce and a suspension of hostilities, Brigadier General E. R. G. Canby, United States Army, commanding the Department of the Columbia, and certain peace commissioners, on the part of said certain United States, for the agreed and professed purpose of discussing and arranging terms upon which the hostilities existing between the United States and said band should cease, and did thereupon, in violation of said flag of truce, and treacherously disregarding the obligations imposed by said truce under the laws of war, wilfully, feloniously, and of malice aforethought, kill and murder said Brigadier General Canby. All this at or near the Lava Beds so-called, situated near Tule Lake, in the State of California, on or about the 11th day of April, 1873.

The second specification is the same as the first, only that the name of Peace Commissioner Thomas is substituted for that of General Canby.

The specifications under the second charge, of assault with intent to kill, in violation of the laws of war, recite the attempt to kill Peace Commissioners A. B. Meacham and L. S. Dyer at the time their associate Thomas and General Canby were murdered, all of whom were representing the United States. To the charges and specifications the accused pleaded "Not guilty," but the Commission found them guilty, and sentenced them to be hanged at such time and place as the proper authorities should direct.

The following is the order made by the President in the matter:

"EXECUTIVE OFFICE, August 23, 1873.—The foregoing sentences in the cases of Captain Jack, Schonchin, Black Jim, Boston Charley, Barncho, alias One Eyed Jim, and Sloluck, alias Cox, Modoc Indian prisoners, are hereby approved, and it is ordered that the sentences in said cases be carried into execution by the proper military authority, under the orders of the Secretary of War, on the 3d day of October, 1873.

[Signed,] "U. S. GRANT, President."

The Secretary of War has ordered that the sentences be duly executed, under the direction of the General commanding the Department of the Columbia, at Fort Klamath, Oregon, on Friday, October 3d, 1873.

Claims Against the Late Freedmen's Bureau.

During the first year that the business of the late Freedmen's Bureau has been under the charge of the Adjutant General's office in the War Department, claims amounting to $426,228 have been paid. Claims amounting to $602,954 have been prepared for payment.

September Interest.

The Secretary of the Treasury has directed that the interest due September 1st, amounting to about five millions, be paid on and after August 25th, without rebate.

ST. LOUIS.

The Social Evil Ordinance Decided Unconstitutional.

ST. LOUIS, August 23.—Judge Calvin, of the Court of Criminal Correction, to-day rendered a decision in the case of W. G. Elliott vs. Kate Clark, for keeping a bawdy house, which was argued last Saturday, and in which was involved the question of the constitutionality of the social evil ordinance now in force here. The Judge decides that the provisions of the ordinance are diametrically opposed to the State law under which this prosecution is had, and that the amendment to the City Charter permitting the City Council to regulate prostitution was a special act applying only to St. Louis, and therefore unconstitutional, inasmuch as that instrument provides that the General Assembly shall pass no special law in any case by which provision can be made by a general law.

The Judge says further, it is a special law in its application to but one sex, and not to both sexes. In this it is against the spirit of the bill of rights. The laws should operate uniformly. The offences charged in the information could not be if the other sex were not participants in it. It is unjust and unfair that of the parties to the offense one should be required to conform to multitudinous and grievous and burdensome regulations while the other party does not even receive a tacit recognition. This subject cannot be rendered less a crime by our humane legislation than it actually is. No law but the universal law of compensation can regulate it. My views of this matter are that the words to regulate in the connection in which they appear in the charter are not consistent with any law of this State, and have received a construction altogether too broad, that they do not justify the passage of the ordinance relied upon by the defendants. If such a meaning of the words to regulate as was understood by the City Council be the true meaning, I say then the General Assembly exceeded their constitutional powers when they made the grant, because no such power exists in the Constitution.

Kate Clark was fined one hundred dollars, and Lizzie Saville, who was also a defendant in the case, in the same amount. A motion was made for a new trial. If refused, an appeal will be made to the Supreme Court.

FIRES.

Mifflin, Pa.

HARRISBURG, August 23.—A fire commenced at one o'clock this morning in the central part of Mifflin, Pa., and spread rapidly, consuming one entire block and a portion of another. The loss is estimated at one hundred thousand dollars. The amount of insurance is unknown. The principal sufferers are Tilton & Espenschode, dry goods merchants; Juniata Sentinel office; Littlefield, tin smith; Eika, confectionery; Hess, photograph gallery; Juniata Valley Bank; W. H Rallman, jeweler; Dr. Elders' office; Mrs. M. Benferd, dwelling; D. Sholly, dry goods merchant; Banks & Hamlin, druggists; Dr. Banks' office; John Yeakley & Son, dry goods merchants; Emil Shall, notions; Francois Hardware Company; Hepworth & Son, druggists, and Juniata Hotel damaged.

Belfast, Me.

BELFAST, August 24.—A most destructive fire broke out at two o'clock to-day, the weather being dry and a strong gale blowing from the north. It commenced in Dennett's sail loft, north of R. Sibley & Bros.' wharf, and spread with fearful rapidity along the wharves as far as Carter's ship yard and the Marine Railway crossing at Union street, covering all the buildings in a southerly course as far as the house of C. R. Boyle on High street, where the fire was stayed. Over one hundred and twenty five buildings were destroyed, mostly of wood. The whole loss, as near as can be estimated to-night, is nearly five hundred thousand dollars. Excepting on two steam boat wharves, with a single exception, all the prominent wharf buildings are burnt. At least one hundred and thirty families are rendered homeless. A large number of persons lost their furniture.

UTAH.

The Young Divorce Case—Card from Ann Eliza's Counsel.

SALT LAKE, August 24.—Judges Tilford and Smith, counsel for Mrs. Ann Eliza Young in the divorce case, publish a long card in reply to Rev. Stratton, charging him with interfering in the case and attempting to compromise with Brigham without their knowledge, and intimating that he received pay therefore. He is charged with lying in asserting that they had defamed her character. The card is spicy and strong. It closes by stating that Mrs. Young's case is not lost. They believe she will ultimately triumph. They will appeal to the Territorial Supreme Court, and will not trust longer to Mr. Stratton, and the case is to be pushed ahead, and causes a good deal of talk.

TOLEDO.

Union Railroad Bridge.

TOLEDO, August 23.—This morning's Commercial announces the incorporation of a company to be known as the Union Bridge Company, composed of the Toledo, Wabash & Western, Pennsylvania and Canada Southern Railroad Companies, who have obtained permission from the Board of Public Works to bridge the Maumee from a point on the present railroad grounds, a short distance below the Lake Shore bridge, to a connection with the Toledo, Tiffin & Eastern road on the East side. The advantages to be gained by the construction of this bridge are numerous and important, giving direct connection between all the roads entering the city. General J. S. Casement, of the Canada Southern, is President of the company.

SPAIN.

Carlists Preparing to Move on Madrid.

BAYONNE, August 23.—The Carlists say they are organizing for a movement on Madrid, and that they will be ready to march in October.

The Bombardment of Cartagena.

The Cartagena insurgents are vigorously replying to the fire of the Spanish fleet. Admiral Lobez has under his command only the Saragossa, an iron clad, and some wooden frigates. The insurgents are plentifully supplied with provisions and stores, and are sanguine of assistance from the Communists in other cities, so that a stern resistance may be expected.

MADRID, August 23.—Advices from Cartagena state that the civil and military authorities of the Communist administration had quarreled, and their respective partisans had come to an actual conflict, in which a number of men were killed and wounded on both sides. The private soldiers in Cartagena are discouraged and in favor of surrendering to the Government forces. The Carlists, at the instigation of priests, burn all records of civil marriages they capture.

Mutiny in Barcelona.

The artillerymen in the garrison at Barcelona mutinied against their officers. They were, however, disarmed by the cavalry under command of the Captain General, and were imprisoned before they had time to do serious harm.

FRANCE.

The Duc De Broglie on the State of the Country.

PARIS, August 23.—The Prefect of the Department of Eure to-day gave an entertainment in honor of the Duc de Broglie, Minister of Foreign Affairs. Many distinguished Frenchmen were among the guests. In reply to a toast, the Duc de Broglie said that the Government of the Republic was engaged in a struggle, not against public opinion, but against those loose principles which threaten to put an end to social order. The struggle was a perilous one; it might be a long one; it would require in support of the Government the efforts of all honest citizens of the Republic. The problem which the situation presents will soon be solved by the National Assembly, without passion, and without the influence of personal sympathies. He delivered a high encomium on the character of President MacMahon, whose private life and public career entitled him to be called the model of honor. It was good fortune for France to have such a President as MacMahon, whose loyalty to his country was above the ties of party. Let us rally around him. He alluded in kind terms to ex-President Thiers, to whom, however, he thought the Assembly had manifested ample gratitude for his great services.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Fatal Railway Collision.

LONDON, August 23.—A collision occurred this morning on the Great Northern Railway at Retford, near Nottingham, between a freight and an excursion train, and both were badly wrecked. Reports received thus far say that twenty persons were killed and a large number injured. As there is great excitement at Retford over the disaster, this account may be exaggerated.

10 P. M.—Later and more accurate details from the railroad collision at Retford place the number at four, but fifteen persons were badly injured, several beyond hope of recovery.

Programme of the Home Rule Party.

The Dublin Irishman publishes the new programme of the "Home Rule Party." It includes the establishment of a new paper in Dublin, called Faugh A Ballagh, to be the official journal of the party, and the agitation for the abolition of the name and office of Lord Lieutenant and the substitution of a suzerain to be elected by universal suffrage and to have the nominal title of King, for triennial parliaments, and for a law authorizing the confiscation of the estates of absentees.

KENTUCKY.

Ku-Klux Outrages.

LOUISVILLE, August 24.—The Courier-Journal to-morrow morning will publish another long letter from a special correspondent sent into the Ku-Klux counties to investigate outrages. The correspondent gives a list of eighty-six outrages committed in Henry, Owen and Franklin counties since 1870, varying from simple warnings to property holders not to employ negroes to arsons, rapes, whippings, pillages and murders. Governor Leslie, some weeks since, offered a reward of $500 each for the apprehension of the Ku Klux concerned in the murder of the negro Wilson on the Knox Brown plantation, but since the proclamation several outrages have been committed. The outlaws laugh at all attempts to secure conviction. When one is arrested he easily proves an alibi by other members of the gang.

The correspondent believes the whole number of organized Ku-Klux in the three counties will not exceed one hundred, who have a regular place of meeting and plans of operation. The letter closes as follows: One and all agree that soldiers, State or federal, can accomplish the dispersion and utter annihilation of the klan in short order. Can we get them? We have furnished evidence time and again that the civil law is a dead letter in this case. Why should any one longer doubt? I have attempted to furnish a chronological list of Ku-Klux villanies that they have committed—twice as many as the time and means at hand have enabled me to gather. There can be but little doubt that if a dozen murders, as many rapes, several hundred attempts at murder, and whippings, and beatings, and driving from their homes of thousands of our best citizens of either race, do not call for extraordinary measures, what in the name of truth and justice ever will? The people of Owen and Henry counties are earnest in their appeals. They even protest that Governor Leslie is tardy in coming to their relief. While he has thus far done all that any officer in his place could do, still his Excellency is magnanimous enough to overlook the nervous upbraidings of men whose wives and children are at the mercy of cut throats and outlaws. He must institute other measures, law or no law.

The Courier Journal, in a double-leaded editorial commenting on the letter, calls for prompt and decisive action to rid the State of a band of midnight assassins and bandits, who have almost entire control over the whole section of country around the State capital. The same paper has advocated the formation of a body of armed police who should be sent to the district, and remain until the discovery and arrest of every member of the gang has been effected.

WHEELING.

Accident on the B. & O. Railroad.

WHEELING, W. VA., August 24.—An accident occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad today, four miles west of Cameron, by which three or four German emigrants were fatally injured, and fifteen or twenty wounded. The accident was caused by the track spreading, which threw the tender, express cars and one passenger car down an embankment and all the coaches off the track. The coach that went over the bank, some fifteen or twenty feet, contained some seventy or eighty men, women and children. The car turned bottom upwards, the trucks with it. Some of the emigrants became enraged, thinking the engineer and conductor were trying to kill them, and set upon the officers of the train with stones and they had to flee for their lives. In an hour or two after the accident occurred the express train, which was an hour and a half late, came up, and its officers, directed by Capt. Deveres, who was a passenger, rendered all the necessary attention to the wounded.

THE Indian treaty negotiated by Mr. Brunot is more important than at first glance it seemed to be. About four millions of acres of land are saved by the change of reservations, and the route of the Northern Pacific Railroad is thus freed from obstructions, and the lands granted the Company are made available. The service thus rendered by Mr. Brunot is a very important one.

THE feeling in Canada over the Pacific Railroad scandal still continues. Lord Dufferin has, to some extent, conciliated public sentiment toward himself, by making an excellent selection of gentlemen for the Royal Commission, and by requiring some testimony, and ordering the proceedings to be public. But the feeling of outrage and shame toward the members of his cabinet is as intense as ever.

THE storm of a week ago sent pleasure seekers rather hurriedly from the seaside and the mountains to their city homes. The warm weather of the past few days, however, may lead those who were so readily led to seek the comfort of city life, to regret their haste. The heat has been quite oppressive, and were it not for the cooler atmosphere that prevails at night, it would pass for thorough Summer weather.

GENERAL BUTLER is engaged in an epistolary war, as bitter yet as spicy as that waged by him in New Orleans. The latest subject for his attentions is one Fay, who seems to have referred, in a public speech, to the General's record, which, if we accept his intimations, is a somewhat flagrant one. The salary grab defence, published by Butler, is now represented as having sealed his fate, so far as all chance for the Governorship is concerned. We will believe this when the Convention says so.

THE finding and sale, for dissecting purposes, of the body of Munce, who apparently went from this city to Philadelphia while under aberration of mind, and was drowned in the Schuylkill, reflects great discredit upon certain authorities of our sister city. We are gratified to know that Mayor Stokeley is giving every possible attention to the subject and that the guilty perpetrators of the outrage are likely to receive just punishment. The robbery and sale of the body was, however viewed, a gross outrage on propriety and decency.

WE are in receipt of a handsomely illustrated volume of nearly two hundred pages, containing an account of the Allegheny Cemetery, and which contains, among other interesting matter, the oration delivered by Judge McCandless, in May, 1848, on the occasion of the removal to the Allegheny Cemetery of the remains of Commodore Barney and Lieutenant Parker. The work is embellished with a liberal number of photographic views of monuments, and scenes within the cemetery. It has been carefully prepared, and is, altogether, a valuable work of its kind.

A SERIES of disasters finds record in our news columns this morning. At an extremely unfortunate point on the Mississippi river, known as the "Graveyard," the steamer "George C. Wolfe" blew up on Friday, causing the loss of several lives. A fire at Mifflin, in this State, is also recorded, involving the destruction of a block of buildings and serious loss in property. A collision of trains on the English Great Northern Railway involved considerable destruction of life. Thus the record of accident and loss seems necessary from time to time.

THE visit of the Shah to Vienna, if we may trust the reports of the several newspaper correspondents, was characterized by the same peculiarities that marked the visit of the great Persian potentate to the other courts of Europe. Filth, rudeness, disregard of engagements, and a grade of morality that has all along commanded considerable attention, were quite manifest at Vienna. The Empress refused to see him. But two hundred Viennese mothers, it is rumored, were desirous of wedding their daughters to the barbarian. It will be well for the morals and comfort of Europe when the king of kings returns to Teheran.

THE English authorities have been treated to an illustration of the extreme slipperiness of American prisoners, and are very nervous over the revelation made. It had been the prevailing belief that Newgate was so entirely safe, that once incarcerate a prisoner there, and no fear need be entertained of escape. But the Bank of England forgers came so near making their escape, the officials being very generally bribed, that had not the plot been discovered when it was, the fame of Newgate would have been tarnished. The prison officials are now under arrest, and the prison is patrolled by a large force of armed men.

IT TURNS out that even the Democratic press is not a unit on the currency or greenback question. The supposed view of the Democratic party is, that a speedy enforced return to specie payments, to "hard money," as they term it, is the great need of the hour. But the Cincinnati Enquirer not only advocates the enlargement of the volume of currency, but an indefinite deferment of the return to specie payments. It thinks that $700,000,000 of currency is "entirely insufficient," and affirms that at the best there is a great scarcity of the needful greenbacks. When the Post condescends to come down from its lofty philosophical altitude, and consider this subject, it whiffs aside all objections to its views, as though they were so much smoke, and affirms the feasibility of the specie paying idea. We are gratified at being able to turn the Post over to one of its own party for correction.

EASTERN merchants do not take an unfavorable view of the prospects of the Fall trade. A few changes have occurred, of late years, in the manner of purchasing, on the part of western buyers, and the season is consequently later. But of the fairness of the promise, and the favorableness of the prospect, little doubt seems to be entertained. From A. T. Stewart, & Co., New York, this view is presented: "The increased facilities for transportation have caused the season to begin later each year for several years past. Freights are quicker and purchasers can buy nearer the time when goods are wanted. This is healthier for the trade, which will continue later in the season. Jobbers—especially in the South—are buying with more care and studying the wants of the people more than formerly. More caution is also exercised by manufacturers abroad who for many years have consigned a great many goods to this market. The returns from these have been very unsatisfactory, and lately they wait for orders before manufacturing. This prevents an over-stock of dress goods. There will probably be more buyers in New York next month than at any time for three years past." This newsystem of buying is very commendable. It indicates that our people determine more carefully, the purchases they make—a fact which has much to do with sound economy, and a return to better times.

WE referred, some time since, to a project to shorten the time required for making the trip to England, by making St. Johns the terminus of a railway line, and having a line of steamers thence across the ocean. The original plan has been found to be unfeasible, owing to the necessity for crossing the Gulf of St. Lawrence, a distance of three hundred and fifty miles. A new plan, however, is mapped out. It consists in making Whitehaven, or Louisburg, in Nova Scotia, two hundred miles north of Halifax, the starting point for European steamers. Both these places have good harbors. The system of railroads would connect all parts of the United States and Canada with these places, and passengers could proceed by rail to Louisburg or Whitehaven, and thereby avoid several days on the ocean. But the general scheme does not stop with shortening the route on this side. It includes a system of railways through Ireland, terminating at Valencia, on the southwest coast. This would reduce the time of passage from New York to London, which now averages eleven days, to eight days,—the time being from New York to Louisburg by rail thirty-seven hours; from Louisburg to Valentia, 143 hours, and from Valentia to London sixteen hours. The time on the ocean will be six days, or little more than half the present time. The railway system has been already extended to Halifax, and it will not be long before the general scheme will be complete. Any route that will shorten the sea trip, and thus save time, will become popular.

IT IS not often that we can fully endorse the editorial utterances of the New York Herald, but the following relative to the office of Chief Justice is so perfectly in accord with what we have already said on the subject, that we give it a place in our columns: "The appointment of a Chief Justice of the United States is perhaps the most solemn and responsible duty which can fall to the lot of any President. The highest judicial office in the country is one that cannot be filled from the ranks of the politicians or as a matter of personal favor. Neither is it proper that it should long remain vacant, to be made the sport of politicians in their intrigues for place. A sufficiently long time has elapsed since the death of Chief Justice Chase to make the choice of his successor a serious and immediate duty with the President. In naming the new Chief Justice, President Grant cannot, and we are persuaded he will not, act upon personal or political reasons. A man of great ability, large learning in the law, sterling character and unimpeachable personal worth is the only one for the office. So much depends upon the worth and wisdom of the Chief Justice that the very liberties of the country may be said to be in his keeping. A Judge, willing to be the tool of a party, a faction or a clique, would be more dangerous than a hostile fleet. A weak man in this great office would be powerful for evil. A politician, ruling in the Court as well as in the caucus, would be disgraceful to the Republic. A bad Chief Justice is more to be feared than a bad President. We know these considerations will weigh heavily with the President, and it is fair to assume that his selection, which we trust he will speedily make, will be based upon reasons in harmony with them." We are of the opinion that the position will be filled by promotion, and not by the selection of an outside party.

GOLD SPECULATORS.

That there is a gold clique formed in New York, determined on putting up the price of gold, seems to be generally admitted. The upward tendency of gold, for a few days past, and the rumors and reports in circulation, serve to give color to the reported purpose of the gamblers. They are credited with desiring to create another Black Friday; and that they are sufficiently reckless to do this, should there seem to them a possibility, is shown by the manner in which they have acted at different times in the past. Jay Gould, and those who act with him, are supposed to be in the movement. He was the originator of the Black Friday gold corner, and of the more recent corner in Northwestern common. The perfect heartlessness with which he ruined hundreds who were caught in his toils by these operations, stamps him as a man who will stop at nothing to carry his purposes. In the recent attack on Pacific Mail, which, we are confident, has been defeated, there was an announced purpose to throw it into bankruptcy. This company, whatever its misfortune or bad management, has a sound basis, its stock is widely distributed, and it is doing a large and profitable business. It has met with losses, but these seem in a fair way to be overcome. To ruin a Company like this, which is engaged in legitimate traffic, is immoral to a degree that cannot be expressed in words.

Despite the rumors started to affect the price of gold, there is really no deficiency in the United States Treasury, nor is there a chance for the conspirators to succeed, if the Secretary of the Treasury uses his power against the gold clique. While we would have such emergencies provided for by law, or rather would open the Treasury doors, and permit merchants to buy gold to the extent of their needs, yet with our financial affairs situated as they are, we hope the Secretary of the Treasury will sell any necessary amount of gold to break down the clique now formed. There is a reason for this, totally independent of that of interfering against gamblers. It is sometimes said that to sell gold in such emergencies is to mix in the contests of mere gamblers. We are to remember that there is a third class, entitled to Government protection. Admit that the two classes of gamblers,—the bulls and bears,—are not, the merchants certainly are. But this aside and there is the higher reason, that the reputation of the Government depends in a measure on the maintenance of its credit. Having assumed, tacitly, to regulate the premium on gold, it becomes its duty to keep that premium sufficiently regular and steady to prevent wild speculation, and great variations in the value of merchandise. This duty should be rigidly performed.

The only objection that we have ever observed to such a course is in the concentration of so much power in the hands of one person. This condensed is, the people object to one man doing what they would be perfectly willing to have done by law. If a law were enacted, requiring the Secretary of the Treasury to sell, at the current market rate, so much gold as might be demanded by business men,—say down to within ten millions of what is contained in the Treasury, we should witness the gradual decline of premium, and speculation would be broken up. That men would combine to buy up all the gold, and then have the Government and people at its mercy, is altogether unlikely. Nothing has occurred since the war to indicate such a possibility. The gold income of the Government is sufficient to guarantee its safety in this particular. We fully believe, however, in the propriety of any remedies that may be employed to check any progress of speculation that may be disastrous to the community. We say this, not in the interest of gamblers, whatever their views, but in behalf of the people who clearly have the right to be protected while following a legitimate and proper business. And the Government owes it to its honor to protect itself against outrageous combinations which seek to use it as a foot ball, if thereby they can benefit themselves. No mercy should be shown such persons, as they are clearly undeserving of the slightest attention or regard.

"Live and Dead Capital."

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

"Live and Dead Capital" was your text a few days ago. As one of the business men of this city, I thank you for the comments thereon, and endorse them in full. I hope you will give us a little more of the same sort. Never was there a wiser act passed by Congress than the Legal Tender Act, which gave us four hundred million dollars of the best currency we ever had. This issue cost us nothing. The people owned it, and of course had entire confidence in it—were ready to sustain it at all times and under all circumstances. I have no sympathy with a certain class of financiers who call these legal tenders "irredeemable," "irregular," &c.

It was under the pressure of this class of financiers that the act to retire a portion of our "greenback" circulation was passed, and our old member, General Moorhead, voted for it. But what was the result. The reduction was stopped when forty odd millions had been tied up, simply because it was found on trial that the business of the country was suffering in consequence of the retiring process. Why not replace those forty millions? The business of the country needs the money. None will deny that the true interests of the country demand a reasonable growth of currency corresponding with the average growth of the nation.

I do not wish to argue this point; to me it is self evident—but I ask every business man to take this idea with him and act on it. This same class of would-be financiers say that we must have a "financial crisis" in this country—a "revulsion" some call it—every ten or twenty years. So we must if we are to be weighed down under the pressure of "dead capital," but with live capital and enlightened legislation this country can pass all the decades without special danger. 1825.

POLITICAL NOTES.

IT is asserted that Mr. Butler's chances of securing the nomination for Governor of Massachusetts are decreasing.

AS CANDIDATES for the Legislature the Democrats of Lancaster county have nominated Mr. M. Strickler, George Diller and R. H. Brubaker.

ISAAC C. COLLINS, of Cincinnati, the nominee of the 30th of July Convention for Governor of Ohio, is sojourning for the present at Put-in-Bay.

CAPT. ALPHONSO BARTO, Republican candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Minnesota, recently dislocated his elbow by a fall from a buggy.

THE veteran editor of the State, Benj. Bannan, Esq., late of the Miner's Journal, has been proposed as the Republican candidate for Congress from the Schuylkill district.

THE most prominent candidates for the Republican nomination for Governor of New Jersey are John Hill, of Boonton, George A. Halsey, of Newark, and John Davidson, of Elizabeth.

AT THE late Democratic Convention of Lancaster county, William P. Brinton, S. S. Detwiler, W. H. Eagle and J. S. Hoover were chosen delegates to the State Convention to meet at Wilkesbarre on the 27th instant.

GENERAL J. W. PHELPS, of Brattleboro, is mentioned as the anti-Masonic candidate for Governor in Vermont next year, and James W. Simpson, of Craftsbury, a last year's Liberal, is named as the candidate of the Granges.

MACK, of the Sandusky, Ohio, Register, was defeated in the Ninth District Senatorial Convention at Clyde, Thursday, Captain James B. Lucky carrying the nomination by a clear majority of thirty votes over all other candidates.

THE Rev. J. S. Lane, of South Framington, Mass., has written a letter to Gen. Butler, in which he tells him that after reading the Butler letter on back pay, he felt "as Rowland Hill felt when Chalmers preached his first sermon in London," and would fain cry out, "Well done, Butler."

HENRY W. SCOTT and Abram W. Lerch have been elected delegates to the Democratic State Convention from Northampton county, and instructed to cast their votes for Hon. Henry P. Ross, of Bucks county, for Judge of the Supreme Court, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

THE Delaware county Democracy have nominated Hon. Tryon Lewis as their candidate for State Senator, for the Fifth district, composed of Chester and Delaware counties. Chester county will endorse the action of her colleague, and thus put Mr. Lewis fairly in the saddle for the political race.

THE following ticket has been nominated by the Republicans of Northumberland county: Senate, Colonel John M'Cleary; Assembly, Dr. William J. Haas; Register and Recorder, etc., Capt. Alexander Caldwell; Treasurer, Samuel Savidge; Commissioner, Adam Lenker; Jury Commissioner, William H. Leighow; Auditor, M. B. Priestly.

THE Republicans of Mifflin county have nominated the following ticket: Senator, A. F. Gibboney, with power to choose his own conferees; Assembly, J. Beaty Henry; Treasurer, Jesse Mendenhall; Commissioner, three years, Henry L. Close; Commissioner, one year, M. F. H. Kinsel; Director of the Poor, Andrew Spanogle; Jury Commissioner, Joseph Strode; Auditor, W. L. Owens.

THE Republicans of Tioga county held their Convention on Tuesday. Steven Bowen, of Morris Run, was nominated for Sheriff over Augusta Alba, of Knoxville, by a majority of two hundred and forty-three. Other candidates were in the field, but all withdrew except Mr. Daggett, who received twenty-eight votes. The Crawford county system is endorsed in Tioga county by an overwhelming majority.

THE cry of Cæsarism may be but another name for the expression of hatred to the leaders of the armies of the Republic. The audacity with which unrepentant rebels seize upon it and use it as their battle-cry against General Grant will not make the word very popular among the loyal masses of the country, who are not yet far enough from the recollection of the war to join in heaping calumny upon the Commander-in-Chief of the Army that conquered the rebellion, nor base enough to surrender the honor and glory won in that contest.—Washington Chronicle.

WE would respectfully recommend to the Democracy of Ohio that "the Old Sexton" would make them a good campaign song. "A relic of bygone days was he," would come in so appropriately, and upon the outside of the sheet music could be lithographed the old sexton himself, with hair "white as the foamy sea," standing "Nigh to a grave that was newly made," upon the head-board of which is engraved, "The Allen county infant, the only child of T. E. Cunningham, the hope of Halstead, aged three months and one week."

THE Madison, Wis., Journal says: "The Republican party is yet young; it is emphatically the party of the law abiding, the progressive the emancipated, the youthful, and patriotic of the land, and is constantly reinforced by young blood. It has a brighter, better history than any other party ever had; it has a glorious future, and we predict that when the representatives, fresh from the people, meet in State council here, the party will display its prestine vigor in the emphatic enunciation of sound principles. It will place its standard in strong and tried hands, and secure triumphant success by deserving it."

THE Chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Iowa publishes in his paper, the Cedar Rapids Republican, a list of meetings to be held in that State on the opening day of the campaign. The campaign will open up simultaneously on Wednesday, September 17, at Cedar Rapids, Iowa City, Muscatine, Washington, Council Bluffs, Jefferson, Fort Dodge, Marshaltown, Waterloo, Charles City, West Union, Dubuque, Davenport, and Burlington. From the first day, meetings of the canvass will be pushed vigorously until the day of election, and will probably close with a large number of meetings held simultaneously over the State, on a given day, at points not touched in the opening day.

"PRIVATE DALZELL" writes to the Cincinnati Commercial that up among the Huckleberry knobs in Southern Ohio it makes the Democrats mad to intimate that there ever was an older man than their candidate for Governor. The facetious Private adds: "Since the nomination of old Bill Allen, antique researches are all the go up here with the Democracy. They are going back to buckskins and flints, and going to mill with a stone in one end of the sack and grain in the other. They powder their hair white, and wear gray clothes, rebel fashion. The habiliments of age are all the go. It makes them mad to hear about anybody being older than Allen, and one irreverent cuss, through spleen, has torn out of his Bible the story of Methuselah."

THE Chicago Tribune has the following shot at the defenders of the salary grab, justifying the guilty Congressmen because other people make a great deal more than that in their business. "In other words," says the Tribune, "because A, B or C makes more than $7,500 in the prosecution of legitimate private business, therefore Congressmen have the right to vote that much money out of the public Treasury into their own pockets. This wisacre might with the same propriety have gone a step further and said because Mr. Vanderbilt had an income of say $10,000,000 instead of $50,000 per year, therefore Congressmen have the right to vote themselves $50,000 per year instead of $7,500. The figures are a trifle different, but there is not a jot of difference in the principle involved.

NORTH CAROLINA has recently had an election upon the ratification or rejection of amendments to the State Constitution, and, although the returns have been somewhat delayed, it appears that the amendments have been ratified by an average majority of about 25,000. The vote was light, and not much interest was taken. The chief amendment related to the exemption of property from seizure for debt. The sum exempted is $300, and the property was heretofore specially mentioned to be wearing apparel, arms for muster, household and kitchen furniture, the mechanical and agricultural implements of mechanics and farmers, libraries and scientific instruments. The amendment was to strike out the limit implied by the specification, so that now each person is allowed an exemption from seizure of any personal property to the value of $300.

ONE of the most remakable cases of the operation of lithotomy recently occurred at the children's Hospital, Washington, D. C., when a stone weighing sixty-one grains was removed from a little boy twenty-one months old.

A DISPATCH from London says the plot to effect the escape of the Bank of England forgers was arranged in New York and discovered by the intercepting of letters. The wardens of Newgate were bribed with a hundred pounds each.

AUGUSTUS STEWART, time-keeper, and Wm. A. Champlain, train dispatcher, of Phillipsburg, N. J., have been arrested on a charge of defrauding the Central Railroad out of five thousand dollars by adding fictitious names to pay rolls. Both gave bail.

JEFF DAVIS, in his address before the Southern Historical Society, said he never had seen a "reconstructed woman." General Wilson found a "reconstructed" old lady, disguised in a green veil and waterproof, when his soldiers captured Jeff Davis in Georgia.

MISCEGENATION is not encouraged in the State of Indiana. Nicholas Keiger (colored), of Jeffersonville, has been sentenced by the Clark County Criminal Court to pay a fine of $1,000 and suffer one year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary for marrying a white woman.

A GENTLEMAN just from the Indian Territory says that the Kiowa chiefs Satanta and Big Tree had arrived at Fort Gibson, where they will remain until the meeting of the Grand Council of the Kiowas and Comanches, in October, when they will be taken to Fort Sill and be formally released from captivity.

ADVICES from Lance a Loup, Labrador, report that wolves in immense numbers have appeared for the first time for many years among the settlements near the Straits of Belle Isle, and entirely broken up one settlement. On the night of July 1st, they attacked a party, killing and devouring three men and one woman.

MR. HENRY S. FOOTE gives a flat denial to Jefferson Davis' statement as to the unreconstructed women of the South, and thinks he has not been as select of late in the choice of his female companions as he might have been. Since Jeff. attempted his escape in a woman's gown, he has never been quite satisfied with himself.

A DISPATCH from Payson, Illinois, says that on the 15th inst., John Hancock, living four miles from Payson, was discovered hanging by the neck from the upper window of his house by a gentleman passing by. He was dead, and on entering the house Mrs. Hancock was found lying on two chairs, with a terrible wound in her head, from which her brains and blood were oozing. The lady lived three days, but did not return to consciousness. No explanation of the matter could be obtained, but it is supposed that Hancock, who for some time has shown symptoms of derangement, struck his wife with a hammer, one being found near her, covered with blood and hair, and then hung himself. Hancock was a respected citizen of thirty years' standing, and about sixty years old.

A SPRINGFIELD (Mass.) paper asserts that the neighboring town of Holyoke "is nursing the small-pox for the whole commonwealth;" that despite repeated warnings to the authorities, "hack and express wagons, which daily ask for public custom, still nightly attend small-pox funerals; that some of these funerals occur in broad day; that the householders and others who fail to report cases are not prosecuted; that no attempt is made to isolate known cases, and seldom to remove them; that the authorities wink at such reckless proceedings as emptying beds, on which small-pox patients have lain, in the open streets." All of which, if true, should lead the sanitary officials of civilized places to establish a strict quarantine for persons and things coming from Holyoke.

A LETTER from Japan says that all deacons, ministers, &c., now in the employ of the Government will be dismissed at the expiration of their present contracts, at the repeated and urgent requests of the Department of Religion. The writer says that there is far too numerous a class who dishonor the cloth they wear and the profession to which they belong. These men and women, too, come to Japan on a salary from some Mission Board at home, apply for the contract in some Japanese school, and then draw both salaries, taking their reading lessons from the Bible, when a clause in the contract which they have signed expressly prohibits them from teaching Christian religion. It is such that the Government intends to dismiss, and it will not only be a good riddance for the natives, but for the whole foreign community.

THE Japanese are demonstrating their progress by the adoption of the follies and vices of civilization. Recently a sudden taste for lop-eared rabbits sprung up among them, and the amateurs paid enormous sums for fancy specimens. One of the craziest of them offered $5,000 for fifty Madagasgar rabbits of the Duke of Sutherland breed. As another instance of this progress, one of the Daimios has deliberately thrown away his rank and official privileges for the purpose of going into the potted-milk business, and has succeeded not only in establishing the superiority of his trade-mark over all others, but has also made a fortune already. The last evidences of civilization reported are the rinderpest and an International Exposition at Kidto. It is not related yet that their Commissioners have learned their peculiar civilized idea of selling permits for liquor-saloons inside the Exposition grounds.

IN England, besides the multifarious avenues of ordinary business, capitalists and others have two extensive home channels in which to invest their money. These are the public debt and the railways. The debt amounts to about 3,666 millions of dollars, and it is estimated that the sum invested in the railways of the kingdom reaches 2,750 millions. In these two items the English people—for they are almost exclusively the owners of both—have over 6,400 millions of dollars invested. There are 270,000 different holders of the debt, of whom about one-half own sums under $1,500 each. In the railways the shares and debentures are held quite as generally. Surplus English capital, of which there is evidently a vast amount, finds its way to all parts of the world for investment in all sorts of enterprises. They are large holders of the public debt of all foreign countries, and investors to a great extent in America, our railway shares and bonds, and corporation, State and municipal bonds being held by them in large amounts.

PERSONAL.

THE latest advices state that Vice President Wilson is improving rapidly, and, it seems, permanently.

SENATOR SUMNER is still at Nahant, the guest of Professor Longfellow. Since his return from Washington he has remained very quiet, refraining from all reading and writing.

INFORMATION has been received at the Navy Department, Washington, that Assistant Surgeon Adam Mackie, Jr., died suddenly of apoplexy, on board the Ticonderoga, off the coast of Brazil.

TENNYSON has not accepted a baronetcy for himself, as has been reported, but has procured the honor for his eldest son, who is now at Oxford. The younger Tennyson is said to have much of the poetic ability of his father.

COLONEL WILLIAM KENT, who has been a clerk in the Boston naval office for thirteen years, and since the early part of President Lincoln's administration, has resigned his clerkship, the resignation to take effect September 1. Colonel Kent is the oldest man who has ever retired from the Custom House, and but few have held office longer.

MISS ANNIE LOUISE CARY, who is in Paris, studying her part in "Aida" preparatory to its production at the Academy of Music, sung at the American Chapel the other Sunday. The Register says that while her voice has preserved its beauty of tone, it has increased in compass and sympathetic timbre, thus manifesting evidences of careful culture and progress.

MR. JEFFERSON DAVIS, says the New York Mail, is venturing upon public speeches and after-dinner remarks, which plainly show that he considers himself a martyr rather than a fellow existing by an instance of clemency unparalleled in all history. His name should be a hissing and a by-word, especially in the South, and a wholesome public opinion should snub him into obscurity, where alone he ought to find safety.

CORNS.
The surest cure that has ever been discovered for these torments of the feet, is in the Genuine Corn Solvent, which is made by Robinson, of London. It is entirely painless in its application, when the directions are observed, and no one need be plagued with corns, warts or excrescences of any kind on the hands or feet when supplied with one of ROBINSON'S PATENT CORN PENCILS. The cost of the genuine is fifty cents, or sent by mail for sixty cents. They may be obtained in any quantity at KEYSER'S, 167 Liberty street.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCIAL.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 23, 1873.

The week closes on an easy money market. There has been a steady but moderate daily increase in the demand for money, both for immediate use and for carrying, which is mainly due to the gradual approach of the season for Fall trade, but it is also due in some measure to a disposition to forestall a tightening by seasonable provision. Money, however, continues plenty for all demands of legitimate trade, at 8@10 per cent. per annum for first class business paper. We heard of some amounts of $20,000 or more having been obtained at 8 per cent., and others at 9@10; none below the former or above the latter. We have nothing new to report concerning local securities and real estate.

NEW YORK, August 23, 1873.

Money was easy at 4 to 5 per cent., with a few exceptional loans at 6. Exchange was dull at 107⅜@107¾ for bankers' sixty days sterling and 108⅜@108½ for sight. Gold was less active and a little lower. At the opening the market was firm at 116⅛@116¼, but fell off to 115⅜. During the afternoon all business was at 115⅞@116, closing at 115⅞. The rates paid for carrying were 4, 3, 5, 4½, 5, 6 and 1 per cent. The specie shipments for the week were $311,000, principally silver bars. Total imports for the same time: dry goods, $3,315,378; general merchandise $4,766,465. The customs receipts for the week were $2,953,984, and the internal revenue receipts at Washington for the month were $6,803,341. The Sub-Treasury here paid out to-day $30,000 in gold on account of interest, making the disbursements for the week for interest and in redemption of 5-20 bonds $297,000. Clearings $99,921,000. Government bonds closed dull and firm. There was more inquiry for registered issues, and sales of 1881 sixes were made at 117¼ and 1867's at 117½. State bonds were quiet at nominal prices. Railway and miscellaneous speculation was dull, except in a few instances. There was an unusually slim attendance at the Stock Exchange, which presented a dispirited appearance most of the day. With the exception of Pacific Mail, prices declined ⅛ to ⅜ per cent. The bank statement did not affect the market materially, but at the close leading shares were weak. Pacific Mail advanced from 42¾ to 43⅜, and lost the improvement late in the day. Western Union declined from 90 to 89½, leaving off at 89⅜@89⅝. Rock Island fell off from 109⅜ to 108¼, and sold at the close at 108⅜@108½. Lake Shore sold at 93@92⅝; Northwest common at 64⅜, 64¼, 64⅜, and 64½; St. Paul common at 51, 51¼, and 50⅞, and Erie at 59⅛@59. The other changes were ⅛@¼ per cent.

PARIS, August 23.—Rentes 57f 90c.

BOSTON.—Though the money market, generally speaking, says the Globe, remains about as previously quoted, still there were rather more offerings on call than yesterday, the higher ruling naturally attracting idle balances. Seven per cent. is now the asking price for demand loans, but that rate is not yet established, and a majority of the large borrowers supply themselves at six, though the banking houses are now willing to allow the latter figure for deposits that are liable to remain any time. For loans between the banks the range is from 5 to 6 per cent. Mercantile paper sells somewhat freer at a slight advance, for though some choice grades cannot be obtained better than 7½, prime names pass at 7¾@8½ per cent., and on names less well known up to 9.

CHICAGO.—Saturday's Tribune says the money market continues well supplied with loanable funds, notwithstanding the quiet movement of currency. Some of the banks declare that they make no loans at less than 10 per cent., but others say they would be willing to take gilt-edged sixty-day paper at 8 per cent. At this latter rate, also, there is a good supply of money offered in the open market. The demand from the country for currency, though not quite so large as yesterday, was still sufficient to make a pressure to sell exchanges at from $1 to $1.25 per $1,000 discount. Some large amounts of currency were also ordered from New York today.

PHILADELPHIA.—The Bulletin of Saturday evening says the money market is a little more active than it has been for several days, the weather seeming to stimulate business, both in commercial and financial circles. There is, however, a good supply at all the usual sources, and loans are advanced quite freely. The following are the ruling rates: 6 per cent. on call; 7 per cent. on acceptance, having less than 60 days to mature, and about 8 per cent. for longer date paper. Reading Railroad sold at 55⅛, b. o.; Pennsylvania at 54⅛; Lehigh Valley at 61½; Oil Creek at 23¾, and Camden and Atlantic preferred at 43.

BALTIMORE.—The Gazette of Saturday reports the following:—In Baltimore and Ohio Railroad stocks, 162 was bid, 172 asked; Northern Central 36, 36½ asked, 30 shares selling at 36, and City Passenger was wanted at 16¾; Western Maryland was offered at 6. Central Ohio at 42, with 40 bid; Central Ohio Preferred at 41, and Parkersburg Branch wanted at 11. There were a few transactions made in bonds, 4,000 Pittsburgh and Connellsville selling at 94¼, 1,000 Northern Central gold at 91, and 1,000 Western Maryland 3d guaranteed at 96. For Baltimore and Ohio 1875s 98 was bid; Northern Central 1885s were in demand at 91¾, held at 92.

CINCINNATI.—Saturday's Gazette says the shipments of currency to the country continue on a large scale, and the supply was further reduced as the income through the usual channels of trade was comparatively light. The demands for discounts, however, was only moderate, and the money market was easy at 8@9 per cent. in bank for two and three months' paper. In the open market there was a scarcity of prime business paper, and all offered was placed at 8 per cent. for anything which matures before December 1. Longer paper is difficult to negotiate at less than 9 per cent.

ST. LOUIS.—Says Saturday's Democrat: The tone of the market grew considerably stronger under the active inquiry for money, and the banks found it necessary to draw in their discount lines quite close. The demand for currency from the country keeps up brisk, and is running the market rather bare, as the great pressure to sell exchange yesterday clearly shows. Rates ruled nominally stiff at 8 to 10 per cent. per annum, but the amount of transactions at the inside figure was quite small. There was little or nothing done in the way of call loans.

COMMERCIAL.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 23, 1873.

The general markets continue moderately active; but are devoid of any new or important features worthy of special notice. A New York commercial paper, speaking of the prospects of trade, says: All the indications point to a reasonably prosperous season, since a bountiful harvest of cereals is already assured, while the cotton prospects are improving, indicated by the fact that the Department of Agriculture reports the average condition of the crop on the 1st ult. and as the acreage is large, the largest crop, save possibly one, since the war seems altogether probable. Large Grain and Cotton crops, moreover, are supplemented by an unparalleled yield of Petroleum, which now stands 3d on our list of exports, while most mining and manufacturing enterprises are enjoying a fair degree of prosperity. Here, then, we have essential elements for a successful season's business, which nothing, it would seem, could dissipate, except some disturbances of a financial nature, which are certainly not now to be seen on the surface of affairs.

BUTTER—Some dealers report sales of choice butter at 25, but as a rule it is quoted at 22@23, and these seem to be regarded as the ruling quotations. Low grade butter continues very dull.

BEANS—$2 50@3 ℔ bushel.

CHEESE—There is a steady demand for prime Factory, and we are reported regular sales at 13 to the trade, and 14 in a jobbing way. Ohio Sweitzer remains unchanged at 15@17.

EGGS—The market was reported a shade firmer but prices have undergone no change; may be quoted at 15 to 16 for fresh stock, guaranteed as such.

FRUITS—The receipts of Apples are increasing, and the market is weaker, although prices remain unchanged, ranging from $2½ to $3½ per brl. for common to choice. Peaches, Plums, Pears and Berries remain about as last quoted.

FLOUR—The market for spring wheat flours continues firm, and fairly active, although there has been no change since the date of our last report. We continue to quote at $7,50@7,75, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas, and $8@8 25 for old red winters—new from $7½ to $8 ℔ brl. less.

GRAIN—Trade is only moderate; it is true there is demand for about all that is offering but dealers complain that have been obliged to work on very small margins for some time past. Wheat is quotable at $1.45@1.50 for fair to choice new crop red, and there is a very fair demand for it. The Oat market is still reported slow and prices are irregular, and it is difficult to quote correctly; old crop may be quoted at 40@41 for mixed, and 42½@43 for white; new, prime white, 42—these are about the selling rates by the car load. Corn is if anything a shade firmer, but unchanged; 56@58, according to quality. Rye is quotable at 80@85, with but very little in this market, and there is some call for it. There is little or nothing doing in Barley as yet, and, in our market there are no established rates.

GROCERIES—The market for Coffee continues strong and somewhat excited, although prices have undergone no change in our market since the date of our last report. The mail advices from Rio speak confidently of a short crop in Brazil, hence, the indications now point to a still higher range of prices. Sugars are moderately active and firm but unchanged.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 27; Good to Prime, 25@26c. fair 23@24c. Roasted Rio, 1lb. packages, 30c.

SYRUPS—White Drips, 65; other grades ranging from 60 to 40, as to quality.

RICE—Choice Carolina, 10; prime, 9 Patna, 8@8½; Rangoon, 7½@8.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13c: Crushed, Granulated and Powdered, 12; Standard A, 11⅜ B, 11¼; Ex. C, 11c; C, Yellow, 10¾; Circle C, 10¾; Lower grades, 9@10.

MOLASSES—Choice New Orleans, 72@75c Prime [illegible].

HAY—The market for baled continues dull, with a supply still in excess of the demand, but prices remain unchanged, ranging, on wharf and track, from $20@25 per ton, according to quality.

POTATOES—In good supply, and, as noted in our last report, prices are lower; sales reported at 80@85c ℔ bushel.

POULTRY—Spring chickens, 40@60 cents per pair, according to size; and old ones, 70@75c.

PROVISIONS—Extra Sugar Cured Hams, ℔ lb, 16½, Ex. Sugar Cured Shoulders, 11½; Sugar cured Breakfast Bacon, 13½c. Extra Sugar Cured Dried Beef, 19½. Beef tongues, $7 70 ℔ dozen. Bacon Shoulders, per lb, 10c. Bacon Rib Sides, 10½c. Bacon Short Rib Sides, 11½c. Bacon Clear Rib Sides, 11½c. Mess Pork, $18.00 per barrel. Refined Lard for summer use, in trcs, 9½. Do, half bbls, 10¼c. Do kits 11c. Do, in 3 lb. caddies, 12½c. Do in 5 lb. 12½c; Do in 3 lb. pails 11½c; ℔ pound. Do. in 5 lb. pails, 12. 5 lb. pails, 12½. Prime Leaf Lard in Trcs, 9½c.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3½c.

ONIONS—$4 50@5 per barrel.

SALT—Is quoted at $1,90 ℔ brl. by the car load, and $1,55 in a jobbing way.

SEEDS—Timothy Seed is selling at $3.60 to the trade, and $3.75 in a jobbing way. Nothing doing in Clover. Flax Seed is still quoted at $1.50.

TALLOW—Quoted at 7¼@8c ℔ lb.

WHISKY—The market for Highwines continues firm and the recent advance is fully sustained: 99@$1 ℔ gallon.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARDS, EAST LIBERTY,
SATURDAY, August 23, 1873.

CATTLE.

We were unable to obtain the report of the receipts; hence, we cannot make a comparison with last week, but it was conceded that the supply was considerably below that of the week preceding, both of that intended for sale here as well as through consignments; this, together with an increased demand, caused trade to rule quicker and at the close prices were quoted from ⅛ to ¼ higher than at the opening. The average quality was common, the bulk of the offerings consisting of thin Texans and Cherokee stock and common native grassers; however, the improved prices, so we were informed, were not confined to any particular grade, as common as well as the best brought the advance, from which it is evident that the supply was scarcely equal to the demand. There were some 110 or 120 cars shipped to Philadelphia, of which close on to one half were through consignments; not a single bullock, that we could hear of, was purchased for New York; and about all the cattle that changed hands here were taken by country dealers and the Philadelphians, the latter taking all the best, and the former all the common and medium grades. Some dealers seem to be impressed with the belief that the offerings of prime shipping steers will not be as heavy during the balance of the year, as they have been for several months past, unless there is a very decided improvement in prices, and they base their foundation for this belief mainly on the ground that as owners of this particular grade of stock have been losing money they will naturally hold back, waiting for the market to improve; if their expectations in this respect should be realized, if the offerings of prime fat cattle should continue light for a few weeks, of which there is at least some doubt, why, as a matter of course, the result will be higher prices. While the future of the market is very uncertain the general indications are that cattle are destined to rule low for some time, as there seems to be an oversupply; this is evident from the continued heavy receipts not only here but elsewhere, although it is possible and even probable that there will soon be more difference made between prime and common stock. There is no mistake, however, but what trade has been against sellers generally for some time past, as the supply has been considerably in excess of the demand, and prices have been shrinking right along, ruling in favor of buyers all the while, who, in turn, when they reached other markets fared no better and for the same reason. There has been a gradual shrinking in prices for several months, and this being the case, trade has been very unsatisfactory to operators generally, for the reason that there has been no chance to make money; it is true that buyers have been able to buy their cattle here a shade cheaper almost every week, until within the past week, but when they would come to sell in the eastern markets, prices were down there in the same proportion, so that they were no better off than before. Thus it has been for several months past, therefore it is not to be wondered that dealers generally are complaining; we do not know certainly, but we judge that western operators have fared worse than those in the east, that the former, as a rule, have lost more money than the latter.

Prices, as we have already stated, may be quoted an ⅛ to ¼ higher as compared with last week; there was nothing sold above 6½, and there were sales at this figure last week, but the same cattle that brought 6¼ last week, would have sold for 6½@6⅝ this week, as there was a great difference in the quality. There was a drove of four loads of good Kentucky steers, weighing less than 1,300, sold last evening at 6c; we are confident that the same lot of cattle at the same time last week would not have brought over 5¾@5⅞. Fair to medium stock brought 5@5½, and common 4@4½. Thin Texas and Cherokee stock quotable at 3@3½. Bulls very dull and cannot be quoted above 2½@3½, according to quality.

SHEEP.

The arrivals were considerably below those of last week, but the falling off, so we were informed, was mainly in stockers, while the quality considering the number was rather better than last week. The supply of fat sheep was not in excess of the demand, which is evident from the fact that last week's prices were fully maintained, notwithstanding the unfavorable reports from New York. Quotations may be fairly given as follows: Extra, fine wool, 100 lb at 5½, 90@95 lb, 5¼@5½, 80@85 lb, 4¾@5; 70@75 lb 4@4¾. Coarse wool, 100 lb, 5½; 90@95 lb, 4¾@5, 80@85 lb, 4@4½. Good open wool Jersey ewes, in sound condition, are in steady demand, and bringing full prices. We quote 75@80 lb at $2@3¼ per head; 65@70 lb, $2½@2¾. Scalawag stock is dull, and can only be sold at very low prices, say $1.25@1.50 per head. There have been but very few lambs on this market recently, and what have been were mostly common in point of quality, not the kind wanted.

Henry Erisman reports having bought and shipped on consignment, to New York, during the past three weeks one hundred and seventy two cars.

HOGS.

The market for Philadelphia hogs got a back set yesterday and to-day; with increased receipts and a diminished demand, buyers succeeded in forcing a decline of about 25c ℔ cwt, and we now quote at 5.25@5.30. York hogs, however, are still holding their own, as they brought just about as much this morning as they did any time this week, and for the time being prime Yorkers are worth just as much as Philadelphias, and may be quoted at 5.20@5.30. Grass hogs continue dull, and are quotable at 4¾@5c, as to quality. Rough stags, 4@4¼. Nice light stock barrows, weighing about 160 lbs in demand and selling at 5⅝@6c.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
SATURDAY, August 23, 1873.

The Crude market has been rather quiet during the past week, but, notwithstanding several new strikes have been reported, adding largely to the production, prices have been firmer and a slight advance established. A telegram from Parker, late this afternoon, reported the market quiet with $1.30 bid, from which it is evident that holders were asking more, say from 2½ to 5c ℔ brl, equivalent to about 4@4¼c per gallon delivered here. In addition to the new strikes, which have been of such common occurrence for some time past, a dispatch from Titusville reported that a new territory has been discovered about four miles south of that city, which the dispatch says threatens to rival the lower Allegheny, meaning, we presume, the Butler district; however, there is not much inducement to develop new territory just now, as the production is already, and has been for some time past largely in excess of the demand. A well informed operator in the producing regions, reported the daily production at 33,000 to 35,000 brls a week ago; since then several new strikes have been made, some of them quite large, adding largely to it. An increased tankage capacity will no doubt increase the demand, and as this is expected within the next few weeks, it, probably has had something to do with stiffening up the market, to which reference has already been made.

The Refined market has been very quiet all week, and presents but little that is new or important; the feeling is possibly a shade firmer in sympathy with the raw material, but there is no activity, and prices have undergone but little change. There is some inquiry from the west, but at figures below the views of our refiners, hence, but few sales have been made; buyers are willing to pay 13 to 13½ but there are but few sellers under 13¾c. Philadelphia delivery is quotable at 16c. Pittsburgh refiners, as a rule, are very comfortably situated, as they are sold ahead from 30 to 90 days, and that, too, at much better prices than can be realized now.

There is a steady demand for barrels, and we are reported regular sales at full rates, $2,20 for countries, and $2.30 for city make.

Iron Markets.

NEW YORK.—American Pig.—There is very little change to notice in the position of American Iron. No. 1 remains pretty steady at about $45 for prime Lehigh brands, with some inferior obtainable at $44. No. 2 Foundry continues weak, many brands offering freely at $36@38 ℔ ton. We understand, however, that there is one brand of Lehigh No. 2 Foundry iron that is held firmly at $40. Forge iron abundant, and quoted at $32@34 ℔ ton. The transactions the past week have been very limited, and we only hear 100 tons No. 1 at $45, 100 tons No. 2 at $40, and 150 tons No. 2 Lehigh at $39. Scotch Pig—The market has generally ruled very quiet the past week. Most of the stocks of Iron that have been held here on speculation, have now been disposed of, and the market can scarcely be called as firm as heretofore. In a wholesale way Glengarnock is obtainable at $44,50@45, from ship, and Eglinton at $44. The sales embrace 400 tons Glengarnock at $44,50@45, and 200 tons Coltness at $49@50. In a jobbing way there is a moderate inquiry, with prices quoted at $46 for Glengarnock, $44,50@45 for Eglinton, $50.00@51 for Coltness, and $47,75 for Gartsherrie. Bar—The demand continues very slow for refined from store, and prices, though quotably about the same, are weak and in favor of purchasers.

PHILADELPHIA.—MESSRS. BLAKISTON & COX report as follows: There has been a brisk inquiry the past week for all grades of Iron, giving a firmer feeling to the market, and producers feeling confident that bottom has been touched, are inclined to ask small advances on last week's prices, though they find it hard to get the advance. Orders are coming to the foundries, and upon the whole things look much brighter. The Bar men complain of the low prices, but continue to work along on short time keeping their production as small as possible, hoping in the near future to realize better prices. In Scotch there is little doing in this market, New York having all the large lots. Prices are held nominally. We quote No. 1 Foundry at $45@46, No. 2 do. at $40@42. Gray Forge at $33@35. White and Mottled, $30@33, all delivered here. Bar Iron at 3 6-10 to 3 8-10 at the mill. New American Rails $77@80 at mill.

Wool Markets

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—There has been a fair business in some descriptions, and prices have been generally steady. The continuous rainy weather has interfered with deliveries, and has perhaps restricted trade to some extent, but for the business that has been doing the market has been quoted steady. There has been some revival of business in foreign, and prices have been firm, with the receipts reported less liberal. Domestic Fleece has been as firm as any other description of home wool: the receipts of fleece here thus far this season do not seem to have been as large as those of Texas and California. Texas Wool was quoted at 20@28c for Eastern, and 20@24 for Western. Fleeces 48@50 for X Ohio, 50@52 for XX do, 44@46 for X Michigan, and 48@50 for XX do. Cape, 33@35 cents. Pulled 40@47 for Super, and 45@47 for old Extra, with no new extra of any consequence received as yet. The sales have included: 100 bales California spring at 23@33c, the higher price for choice, 10,000 pounds do choice 3[illegible]c, 10,000 pounds lower grade at 32c, 15,000 pounds at 28c, 1,800 pounds fall California at 15½c, 2,000 pounds at 26c, 31,000 pounds Texas at 20@28c, 200 bales Australian at 47½@50c, 51,000 pounds Western and Wisconsin 40@49c, 179,000 pounds unwashed 25@35c, 14,000 pounds tub 48@56c, 35,100 pounds scoured 44@70c, 114,000 pounds Delaine and combing 50@57½c, 8,000 pounds shearings 31c, 18,000 pounds Noils, part low, 15c, 2,500 pounds Montevideo 33c, 6,000 pounds washed Santiago, 32½c, 22,000 pounds white lymed Smyrna 24½c, 40,000 pounds Mestiza pulled 65@67½c, 25,000 pounds fleece and 75 bales Cane on private terms. There were other transactions, but particulars not yet transpired.

Receipts Pig Metal, Ore and Blooms.

RIVER NEWS.

The stage of water last evening was 4 feet 6 inches and falling. Business was very dull during the latter part of the week, and it is not likely that there will be any improvement until there is more water, of which there is not much prospect at this writing. Some are inclined to the belief that we will have a dry fall in consequence of there having been so much rain during July and August.

There have been no arrivals since the date of our last report, and there are no boats due. The Exchange departed for Cincinnati on Saturday, with a moderate trip, and she will doubtless pick up something below. Williamson and Littleton are her pilots.

The Elizabeth resumed her regular trips on Saturday.

The Gypsey goes on the dock at Elizabeth, and the Sam. Brown goes to Brownsville for repairs.

—The Louisville Courier of Saturday says: The coal fleet that left Pittsburgh on the late rise commenced arriving yesterday. The Sam. Miller was the advance, arriving at 9 A. M. with 9 barges containing 100,000 bushels of coal. She was followed by the Resolute and Charley Brown. Several others landed at Pumpkin Patch late yesterday evening, but we could not ascertain their names. The last of the fleet will probably be in by 6 P. M. to-day. The amount of coal brought down on this rise will approximate 2,750,000 bushels, nearly all of which will have to remain here until there is more water. This will insure a bountiful supply of coal here for some time to come.

—A dispatch from Washington says Captain D. Smith, Supervising Inspector General of Steamboats, has returned from his extensive tour of observation on Western lakes and rivers. He reports a very general compliance by the steamers with the laws and regulations of the department relative to life-saving equipments and appliances, and that in these respects, as well as in drill and discipline, Western steamers are superior to Eastern.

—The Lioness, on her way up from Cairo to Louisville with two barges loaded with pig iron and ore and eight empty barges, broke her shaft at Holt's bar last Wednesday at 1 P. M. She was landed safely. Capt. John Gordon came up on the Parasoon yesterday and procured the Greyhound and Robin to go down and bring her and her tow up to New Albany, where her damages will be repaired.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says: Col. Merrill had ordered a gauge placed at the Newport Water Works, opposite the mouth of Little Miami, which would indicate the stage of water. At the solicitation of Capt. E. G. Shinkle, of the Pilot's Association, the gauge has been so changed as to indicate the space under the Newport Bridge for passing steamers.

—The Mississippi Valley Transportation Company has seven towboats and over fifty barges, averaging 1,000 tons each. Their barges, if placed end to end, would form a line more than three miles long. The company has several new barges on the stocks, and contemplates building another towboat.

—The Portsmouth Tribune, of this week, says: The waves of the Bostona, on a recent downward trip, sank a coalboat at Riverton, and caused a barge load of iron and two boats of corn to break from their fastenings. That's nothing. The old beauty hasn't shown the upriver folks half what she can do yet.

—Captain J. Hacklerodes, an old time steamboatman, whose career on the river ceased at about the beginning of the war, is now engaged in the tobacco business in Covington. Next week he intends making a trip up the Missouri and coming back along the Mississippi.

—The Marietta Register, of Thursday, says: The steamer Best's license expired on Thursday last, and no application for a renewal will be made, as her owners regard her as unseaworthy and have purchased the steamer Prairie City to take her place. Capt. Barr will command her.

—Since 1833 nine bridges have been built across the Chattahoochee river at Columbus—six by the city and two by the railroad companies. Of the city bridges, two were washed away, and two were burned at the time Wilson's raid. One railroad structure was burned at the same time.

—Geo. Davis, watchman of the Tollie, died at Cairo Tuesday night of bilious intermittent fever. He lived in St. Louis, and leaves a wife and one child.

—The Iron steamer John T Moore is making her last trip in Red River until there is more water.

—The Charles Bodmann, bound for New Orleans, is reported laid up at Stevensport waiting for water.

—The Arlington is advertised to follow the Thomas Sherlock to New Orleans.

—The steamer Phil Morgan recently sunk at the mouth of Elk, Charleston, W. Va.

—The Michigan knocked a hole in herself in Licking River, but the leak was soon stopped.

—Gallipolis collected $10 wharfage last week.

HOME NEWS.

Legs Broken.

Henry McKnight insisted on walking the Pennsylvania Railroad track near Lawrenceville, on Saturday night, just as the Brinton accommodation was approaching. The engineer whistled and put on the brakes, but that did not prevent the engine from striking him and breaking his legs. He was taken to the Twelfth Ward Hospital.

European Steamship Arrivals on Saturday.

A dispatch received at Max Schamberg's European Steamship and Telegraph Office, at No. 163 Smithfield street, announces the arrival of the Anchor line steamer India, at New York; N. G. Lloyd line steamer Deutschland, at New York; N. G. Lloyd line steamer Hanover at New York; N. G. Lloyd line steamer Harold, at New York; N. G. Lloyd line steamer Berlin, at Baltimore.

Foot Crushed.

Quite a serious accident occurred in the machine shops of J. R. Hutchinson & Co., situated near the corner of Sandusky and Park Way, Allegheny, Saturday afternoon. A boy named Lincoln Armstrong, one of the employes of the establishment, was engaged in carrying a large chisel, when he suddenly dropped it upon his foot nearly severing that member. Some of the operatives immediately bandaged the wound which was bleeding quite profusely. A doctor was sent for, who gave it as his opinion that amputation would not be necessary. The lad had a very narrow escape from more serious injury.

Difficulty About Land.

On Saturday in the Court of Common Pleas a bill in equity was filed by J. M. Edmundson on behalf of Thomas and Ann Little, against the Mellon Brothers. The plaintiffs, it is alleged, purchased thirty acres of a tract of land in Monongalia county, West Virginia, belonging to Mellon Brothers; the purchase money, $450, it is claimed, has also been paid. The purchasers were to have made a selection of the site, but neglected to do so until recently, when, after having chosen thirty acres, they were informed that it had been sold to a party who could not make a deed. The case will be heard this week.

An Officer Has a Lively Time.

In the American House, on Beaver avenue, Allegheny, opposite the car stables, a lively fight occurred on Saturday night between a large crowd of men who were present there. Officer McCurry went in to quell the fuss, and proceeded to arrest a man, when he was assaulted and used pretty roughly, his mace being taken from him. He was put into the street, but he went back again, and arrested a man named Edward Brannon. He got him in a back-room, but he was also taken from him. Later he arrested him, and yesterday the Allegheny Mayor imposed the light fine of five dollars and costs upon him, which he paid.

Beneath a Mass of Earth.

John Sobritski, a Pole, was very badly injured on Saturday on the South Side, and it is thought that he cannot recover. He was at work making an excavation in the Catholic Cemetery, when the embankment suddenly gave way, burying him beneath a mass of earth and rocks. He was quickly extricated by his fellow-workmen, when it was discovered that in addition to other injuries his back was broken. He was carried to the cemetery house, and after being examined by several physicians his case was pronounced very critical. As the man has no home he was taken charge of by Mr. Fortune, Secretary of the Board, who had him conveyed to the Homœpathic Hospital.

Protestant and Roman Catholic Processions.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

PITTSBURGH, August 24, 1873.

The Roman Catholic Associations paraded some of our streets to-day (Sabbath) in regalia, with bands playing and banners flying, notwithstanding the editorial article which appeared in the Dispatch on the occasion of the recent Protestants' turn-out, strongly deprecating such processions. There, now, is another opportunity for disinterested expression of disapprobation on the same subject, which some readers of the Dispatch will anxiously look for to-morrow. But I predict they will be greatly disappointed. On this occasion it is a Catholic procession and banners; on the other it was Protestant.

J. M.

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—On Saturday evening this house re-opened for a short burlesque season. We have recently spoken of the new decorations and they looked splendid on Saturday night. The orchestra was a double one, the Wallace Sisters furnishing their own, and several very fine solos were given during the evening, that on the cornet being most noticeable. The Wallace Sisters are fair of face and figure, and possess a fair amount of talent. The Company that supports them is competent. Mr. Dobson's banjo playing was a feature. The Messers. Garber, Andrew and Charles, were found at their old posts as ushers, as was Mr. Black, who looks after the door. The house was crowded and the season promises well. This evening "Aladdin, or the Wonderful Scamp."

AIMS' AMERICAN THEATRE.—This house is floating on successfully, last week having proved to it a prosperous one. The Company is good. Mr. Frayne remains, and gives his great sensation shot this evening. This promises to be an immense card for some time to come. Harry and Lottie Macarthy also remain.

Wouldn't Lend a Hand.

Officer Michael Harrison on Saturday entered suit before the Mayor against Patrick Fleming and Peter Horisty for refusing to comply with a request made by him for assistance in making an arrest. On Friday evening officer Harrison endeavored to arrest a disorderly man in the Fifth ward named John Brown. It was a bigger job than he contracted for, and he called upon the above named men for help, but instead of lending a hand they quietly looked on. Brown was finally conveyed to the lock up, and on Saturday morning was sent to the work house. The penalty for refusing to assist an officer when called upon is quite severe, as will be seen by the following clause from section 8 of the Penal Code, upon which the suit instituted by officer Harrison is based: "If any person, being required by any Sheriff, Coroner, Constable, or other officer of the Commonwealth, shall neglect or refuse to assist him in the execution of his office in any criminal case, or in the preservation of the peace, or in apprehending and securing any person for breach of the peace, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction be sentenced to an imprisonment not exceeding one year, and to pay a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, or either or both, in the discretion of the Court." The accused will have a hearing this week.

CHURCH DEDICATION.

Ceremonies at Soho Yesterday.

St. Agnes' Roman Catholic Church, a new edifice recently finished in Soho, on the Fifth avenue extension, was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. The various Temperance and Benevolent Society belonging to the different Roman Catholic Churches in this vicinity paraded in full regalia with bands of music, and they, as well as the Ancient Order of Hibernians, attended the dedication in a body. Bishop Domenec presided and Father Tracy was the orator of the day. Revs. Fathers Hickey, Grace, Holland, Reardon, Burke, and other priests assisted at the ceremonies. A collection was taken up which must have netted a goodly sum to the church.

THE SUNDAY RUNAWAY.

A Little More Lively Than Usual.

Last evening about seven o'clock an exciting runaway occurred on Federal street, Allegheny. A horse attached to a buck-wagon, in which were seated a man and his wife, daughter and two little boys, took fright and ran away. The whole family were thrown out, the old gentleman being very badly bruised; the daughter struck her head against the curbing and was rendered insensible, and one of the boys had his arm broken. After this exploit, the horse kept on, and near North avenue he ran against a buggy in which were seated two ladies. Two wheels of their vehicle were torn away and they were thrown out upon the pavement, one of them being much bruised. Dr. Cole had a lively time about this period, several fainting ladies and other injured parties were left to be cared for, and in fact, all the folks that were hurt were taken into his office and attended to.

A FAIR BOAT RACE.

Contest Between Snyder and McCloskey.

We can at last announce that a fair and honest boat race has been rowed on Pittsburgh waters. It was the contest on Saturday evening on the Monongahela river between Stephen McCloskey, of the Soho club, and John A. Snyder, of the Beck club. The distance was three miles—one and a half up from the foot of Nineteenth street, South Side, and return; stakes $30. The race was called about half-past five o'clock, the starting word being given by Mr. John W. Carle, who had been chosen referee. The choice was won by McCloskey, who took the inside course, toward the South Side. The men got off very nicely, and the race throughout was very closely contested. McCloskey was coached by the Soho four-oared crew, and Snyder by the McKee crew. The latter came in winner in 28.07, followed by his opponent, whose time was 28.22. At the finish both men rowed to the judge's boat, where McCloskey extended his hand to Snyder in acknowledgment of his defeat, and when the latter grasped it the friendly feeling that it evinced between the two elicited a loud shout of applause from the spectators.

MANSFIELD.

Sabbath School Celebration.

A celebration was held in Brown's Grove, at Mansfield, Pa., on Friday last, by the Temperanceville and Mansfield United Presbyterian Sabbath Schools. The day was clear and pleasant, and over six hundred persons were present. There were about three hundred Sabbath School scholars, with their teachers, who marched to the grove, lead by the Mansfield Brass Band. On arriving at the grove, after prayer had been offered by Rev. Shaw, of Noblestown, the schools were entertained by a very neat and instructive speech delivered by Dr. James Prestley. While the abundantly provided provisions and sweetmeats were being prepared and spread on the long, white covered table, the children were dismissed to the pleasures and amusements of the grove, which had been prepared, and such a gala day for the children! They enjoyed themselves as only children can. When dinner was ready the first served were the children, and then all others present. All enjoyed themselves, and no disturbance occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. At four o'clock P. M. the schools were called together, and short speeches were made to them by E. Edgar Galbraith, Esq., and Rev. G. K. Ormond, of Mansfield, after which, with music to lead, the schools marched to the depot, all feeling well pleased and hoping for the return of many such pleasant days.

A MELANCHOLY SUICIDE.

A Young Man Takes an Overdose of Laudanum—Disease and Suffering the Cause of the Rash Act—A Sad and Melancholy Case—His Letters—Coroner's Inquest and Verdict of the Jury.

On Saturday evening a young man named Isaac Newton Colbert, a clerk in Dr. Ahl's drug store, corner of Fulton street and Wylie avenue, Eighth ward, died under peculiar and distressing circumstances. It appears that the young man had been for a long time subject to a chronic diarrhœa, and this seemed to have depressed him greatly at times. The fact of his sudden taking off caused a great deal of comment in the neighborhood, and yesterday Coroner West was summoned and held an inquest. From the testimony of the several witnesses, it appears that on Saturday morning he was quite ill and low spirited. Dr. Ahl testified that he was employed by him in the capacity of drug clerk. That he had only been there a short time; he had got up that morning at about half past six o'clock and worked till nine, when he sent up stairs for the doctor, saying that he was too ill to work, and wished to lie down. The doctor came down immediately, as there were several persons in the store who had prescriptions to be filled, and he told Mr. Colbert to lay down awhile and rest, and he would feel better. The young man said nothing, and went out, as he supposed, for a walk. But that did not appear to be the case. He went over to Mr. Cooley's and asked for Dr. Pierce. This was about nine o'clock or shortly after. The doctor not being in, he handed Mrs. Cooley a note for him, with a request to deliver it to him as soon as that gentleman came in. Mr. Cooley and the young man then went into the back yard, where they had a short conversation, when he complained of being quite unwell. They had some words in regard to Mr. Colbert having used some narcotic, when that gentleman jumped up excitedly and wanted to know if Mr. Cooley accused him of poisoning himself. He said it was bad enough; Dr. Ahl accused him of drinking. Mr. Cooley then advised him to go to bed. He replied that he did not like to go to Dr. Ahl's house, as he did not like to sleep there. Mr. Cooley then told him to go into the parlor and lie down on the settee until he got better. He then told Mr. Cooley that he had been so long suffering from chronic diarrhœa, and could find no relief, that he had almost given up all hope of recovery. He had been under the treatment of Dr. Gross, of Philadelphia, and that gentleman had only given him temporary relief. He had been advised to go to Europe. He had traveled over the European continent, but all to no avail. After conversing with Mr. Cooley for some time he confessed to having taken a dose of a few drops of laudanum and ten grains of quinine. He laid in the parlor till he died. Dr. Pearce was also examined in regard to the case. He stated that the symptoms of the young man's disease, so far as he could discern, were either those of cataleptic fits, or congestion of the brain. He could not say as regards to the narcotic poisoning. He could not tell by a superficial examination, whether he had been poisoned or not. He would have to make an analysis of the stomach contents in order to discern narcotic poisoning. Dr. J. Guy McCandless testified to having been summoned and prescribing emetics and injection for narcotic poisoning, which all appearances of the young man showed he was suffering from. He was called in early during the day and prescribed. He did not change his opinion later. The symptoms showed plainly of narcotic poisoning. I only know of catalepsy through the books. The symptoms of narcotic poisoning and catalepsy are somewhat similar. Mr. Hoyt stated that the young man seemed somewhat flighty on Friday night, and rather under the influence of liquor. He left Mr. Hoyt a note as follows:

Mr. Hoyt—Please look out for a poor boy and send over to No. 167 Robinson street, Allegheny, and tell young Newton Webb, and they will see that the bill is settled. Your friend and brother,

[Signed.] NEWTON COLBERT.

The following is the note which was handed Mrs. Cooley for Dr. Pearce:

Dr. Pearce—I may be insensible. I will, as I suppose, have a cataleptic fit. If I get very bad telegraph to Dr. R. Colbert, of Oil City, and, Doctor, send for any other person else that you might wish to consult with. Do all you can for me.

[Signed] I. NEWTON COLBERT.

Dr. Ahl thinks I have been drinking, but examine me; he does not know; I will not be with him long; I am going to bed.

Dr. G. H. McNary testified to seeing Mr. Colbert take some stuff out of a tumbler that morning; it was a powder, and he took it in water. This was between nine and ten o'clock, and he complained of having a headache, and left parties in the store without filling their prescriptions, though they were waiting. Mr. J. R. Newman testified to the young man acting foolishly on Friday night. He then seemed to be under the influence of liquor.

The father of the unfortunate young man, a highly respectable citizen of Butler borough, Butler county, was present at the inquest, he having been telegraphed for. He said that his son had been between seven and eight years in the drug business, and was the oldest of ten children. He had never had a cataleptic fit that he knew of, and does not know of any one in his family ever having been subject to them. The young man was troubled with chronic diarrhœa, which at times caused him to be greatly depressed in spirit. He was twenty-four years of age. His father took the remains to his home in Butler for interment. The jury rendered the following verdict: "That the deceased, Isaac Newton Colbert, came to his death by an over dose of narcotic poison taken by himself."

THE COURTS.

Saturday's Proceedings.

DISTRICT COURT.

[Before Judge Kirkpatrick.]

In the matter between William Peterson and George Park and Henry Halley, a rule was granted on Peterson to show why judgment against George W. Park should not be opened and defendant let into a defence.

A similar rule was granted on plaintiff in the case of Robert May Smith vs. John J. Eadres.

In default of affidavit or appearance, judgment was entered against the defendant for the amount claimed in the case of John Wilson & Son vs. Porter, Armsey & Co.

An order was made for the transfer of papers filed by mistake in the case of Wright vs. Bartold et al.

A motion for a new trial was allowed in the case of George L. Lee vs. the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Co. et al.

In the matter of the appointment of commissioners to ascertain the separate indebtedness of the several boroughs annexed to the city of Pittsburgh, by virtue of an act of Assembly approved April 24, 1872, the Court ordered that the time for filing exceptions to the report submitted be extended until September 6th, 1873, and the hearing of the case adjourned until said date.

Special returns were read in open Court and confirmed nisi in the cases of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank, for use, vs. Alexander Miller, and the city of Allegheny vs. H. Huckenstine.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

[Before Judge McCandless.]

The election of Joseph H. Borland, of this city, by the creditors of T. B. Murphy, of Brownsville, Fayette county, bankrupt, as assignee, was approved.

The election of George B. Hill, Esq., of this city, by the creditors of Jacob Glosser, bankrupt, as assignee, was approved.

Cyrus F. Clark, of Boston, Mass., creditor, filed a petition for the adjudication in bankruptcy of the Alps Insurance Company, of Erie, debtor. The usual order was made. Clark had a building destroyed by the Boston fire and the Insurance Company above mentioned held a policy on the building. Having lost heavily in the Chicago fire and again by the Boston conflagration, the policy of Clark was not paid.

In the matter of James Linn, Sr., of Washington, Pa., bankrupt, Alex. M. Todd, Esq., assignee, presented a partial return of the sales of certain real estate, and the same was confirmed, and the assignee directed to make the requisite deeds, and on petition of the assignee, an order was made liquidating a mortgage executed by said bankrupt to Wm. Smith & Son for $6,922.54, said sum having been arrived at by the consent of the assignee and mortgage creditors.

The hearing on the application for injunctions in the cases of Lewis G. Huling and Edwin D. Huling, bankrupts, of Lycoming county, was fixed for the 20th proximo at Williamsport, and an order was issued in the meantime restraining the act sought to be enjoined.

John C. Lloyd, of Northumberland county, filed a petition for the adjudication in bankruptcy of himself, and the same was referred to Register Detwiller, of Harrisburg.

SATURDAY NIGHT STABBING.

A Man Cut Four Times.

On Saturday night, between eleven and twelve o'clock, a row occurred in John Smith's saloon, corner of Middle street and North avenue, Allegheny. As it was getting pretty serious and a number of men were engaged in it, the bar-keeper, Thomas Charlton, tried to eject them from the house, when he was set upon and stabbed four times by one of the party. Three of the cuts are over the left shoulder blade and the other across the left breast. They are not dangerous, but severe. Officer Cornelius entered the saloon and arrested a man named John Lynch, who was taken to the lock-up. A physician attended the injured man and dressed his wounds with sticking-plaster, which shortly after broke and caused the wounds to reopen. Dr. Cole was then summoned, who dressed them properly. As Charlton could not identify Lynch as his assailant, the latter was fined $25 and costs for disorderly conduct.

A Disgusted Dog.

On Saturday evening an eccentric dog took an eccentric fit, and went into a confectionery on Beaver avenue, opposite the car stables, Allegheny, and took a walk into the ice cream parlor. The animal, a very big one, saw his shadow in a large mirror against the wall, and he went for it, with a result entirely unexpected by the canine and decidedly surprising to the proprietor of the saloon, who wishes that dog—well, What he expressed wouldn't look well in print.

IN THE SPIRIT VATS.

Recovery of the Body of Thomas Munce of Washington Pa—Found in the University Tank—A Remarkable Day.

The mysterious disappearance of Thomas Munce, of Washington, Pa., about the first of July last, and the subsequent recovery of his body has proved to be a fruitful source of gossip. The newspapers not only of Pittsburgh, but of Philadelphia and New York, have given much space to an account of the circumstances connected with the finding of the corpse. After the body was fished from the waters of the Schuylkill river, and the Coroner had held an inquest, the general supposition appeared to be that it had been properly interred in the cemetery, as a receipt for it was on file in the Health office of the City of Philadelphia. Such however was not the case. The body was found by officers in the spirit vats of the Pennsylvania University. It is all perfectly proper that for scientific purposes our medical students should have their subjects for dissection, but for one without the fraternity to suddenly confront a multitude of these subjects is a sight to appal the soul. In a vat filled with liquor, of the composition of which the officers were ignorant, they found twenty-five human beings, of every condition and of both sexes. They were held there in soak. The sight was revolting and sickening in the extreme. They were arranged in no particular order. Had they been tumbled in promiscuously they could not have been more irregular and confused. Men and women were floating there with intermingled limbs and with faces horribly distorted. The starved, the butchered and the suicidal in that immense vat together waiting the keen point of the dissecting knife. The officers sacrificed their feelings in this matter, smothered their emotions and executed to the fullest extent their sworn and solemn duty. They descended into the vat. One after another they fished up the dead bodies.

A sister and two brothers of the deceased accompanied the officers during their search. The bodies were pulled out one after another when finally the sister, pointing to a corpse, said: "That's my brother." It was also recognized by the two surviving brothers. An undertaker was sent for, the body placed in a coffin, and sent to Washington county. How in the world it managed to get into the spirit vats of the medical college is a mystery that has yet to be unraveled, and which is causing considerable trouble among the officials of Philadelphia who are concerned in the matter. The body of Mr. Munce was found on the third of July, and the remains were kept at the Morgue on ice until the evening of July 5th when they went to the City Burial Grounds, accompanied by a Coroner's certificate. There was also sent with the certificate a receipt for the body to be signed by the superintendent of the City Burial Grounds, which reads as follows:

"Received of J. G. L. Brown, Coroner of the city of Philadelphia, the body of an unknown man for burial."

This receipt was returned by the driver, signed, "Wm. Taylor, Superintendent City Burial Grounds." Both the certificate and receipt are now on file in the Health Office. The inquest was held on July 5th, 1873, by Coroner Brown, and a verdict rendered of "found drowned." Professor Hodge, of the university, stated that the body recognized as Thomas Munce was received from the Morgue on July 5, and that no other bodies had been received from that place since that date. The Professor stated, also, that the law requires all unrecognized bodies to be buried. The fifth of July in this connection is certainly a remarkable one. On that day the inquest was held on the body of Mr. Munce, the remains were taken to the City Burial Grounds, where a receipt was made out, and yet, how strange, the corpse the same day found its way into the preserving vat of a medical college. The Philadelphia detectives and the coroners deputies and assistants are now engaged in an interesting dispute as to where the responsibility in the case should rest. The detectives are charged with keeping the friends of Munce in ignorance of his fate, while on the other hand the coroners men are blamed with bartering corpses and selling the dead for money. It is quite certain that in this particular instance there is something wrong in the city of Brotherly love, and perhaps the unknown circumstances of the case may yet be brought to light. "When rogues fall out honest men get their dues."

THE FIGHT WAXES WARM.

Excitement in Base Ball Circles—The Game Last Friday—Letter From Captain Fox of the Iron City's—The Insinuation of Bribery Repudiated—A Suggestion

The game of base ball that was played on Friday last between the Philadelphia and Iron City clubs, has caused the greatest excitement in ball circles, and the feeling in the matter has not yet abated one whit. It has been freely asserted that the game was sold or given away by the Quaker city boys. Below is a spirited letter in relation to the matter from Captain Fox, of the Iron City club:

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The base ball match between the Philadelphia and Iron City clubs has occasioned considerable newspaper talk, and the game has been looked upon as a bargain and sale arrangement. If it would be permitted to pass the direct insinuations of bribery that have been charged upon the Iron City club, and in particular upon one of its most honored and respected members, in silence, it would perhaps be taken as an acquiescence in the truthfulness of the innuendo, and tend to mislead a public ignorant of the merits of the case. It therefore devolves upon me as a duty to the club to place the matter in a true light before the public. The charge that the Philadelphia club out of courtesy, and in consideration of a sum of money offered by Major W. S. Beebe allowed the Iron City to score the number of runs they did is without foundation and we brand the assertion as an infamous and base slander upon the reputation and character of a most honorable and upright gentlemen, and one whose short residence in this city has gained for him the respect and esteem of every acquaintance and of whom it could not with any degree of credibility be said that he would be guilty of any such disreputable practice. The Philadelphia club had made arrangements to depart on the 6:40 train, necessitating the game to be played in as short time as possible. It is not denied on the part of the Iron City that had the Philadelphians been disposed they could have increased their score, but it is equally emphatically asserted that they could not have kept the score of their opponents within much more reasonable figures. Every fair minded person who saw the game will surely give the Iron City some credit for the batting they did, and with them we will leave it, as to whether the runs were not made by clean, safe hits. As to the Enterprising gentlemen across the river, who have made it their particular business to place this matter in its most questionable light before the public, and who have been so unguarded in their boasts, we simply say that we will, in due time, induce them to make good their much doubted assertions.

Yours respectfully, JOHN A. FOX.
Captain Iron City Base Ball Club.

Newspaper discussions will be of no effect whatever in determining the question of superiority between the Enterprise and Iron City clubs. Nothing but a fair and square contest will settle the matter, and we suggest that it come off right away; to-morrow if the necessary arrangements can be made. It is claimed on the one hand that the Philadelphia's did not try to play on Friday, and that to a certain extent, they gave the game away; on the other hand it is asserted that the Philadelphia's could not prevent the Iron City's from making the score they did. That question can be settled without any difficulty. Let a game be arranged to come off as soon as possible between the Enterprise and Iron City, each club to include the same men that played against the Philadelphia's. If the Iron City should be victorious it would prove pretty conclusively that last Friday's game was a square one. If the contrary should be the case, and victory should perch upon the banners of the Enterprise, it would be received as a tolerably good indication that the Philadelphia's did not exert all their skill. There are some minor matters we have left unnoticed in offering this suggestion, but on the whole we think it a good one and if acted upon now it would generally be considered a very fair test. A fortnight or a month hence it would be of no account. The suggestion is evoked by an assertion that the Iron City boys have decided not to play the Enterprise until they practice a little more. If such is the case a game a month or more from now will be of no effect in deciding whether the Philadelphia's did their level best last Friday, and that is the question that calls for an answer now. We hope to see a match arranged to come off within a day or two.

A few days ago Moses H. Thompson, a journalist and printer, well-known in this city, died at St. Paul, Minnesota, of consumption. Something over a year ago he started to the northwest in hope that the invigorating and health-giving atmosphere of that section would lengthen his lease of life, but the disease that had fastened on him had too firm a hold to be loosened. Mr. Thompson had considerable local reputation as a witty, humorous writer, and if his physical ability had been equal to his mental he would to-day have stood in the front rank of the humorists of America. His quick wit, his cutting sarcasm, his lively appreciation and perception of the ridiculous, aided by a pencil the cunning of which was excelled by but few, evoked acknowledgements of his ability as a writer and commanded the respect always paid to talent. In the very prime of life death stepped in and claimed him as his victim. The St. Paul Dispatch says that he came to that place in November last, and worked on that paper until the spring time came, when failing health compelled him to cease work, and he was admitted into the Church hospital, where his remaining days were relieved of suffering and weariness by the kind care and attention he received. Peace be to the ashes of "Our Mose."

A DEADLY ENCOUNTER.

A Terrible Affray on the Suspension Bridge—A White Man Cut Without Cause Five Times With a Razor by a Colored Man—Escape of the Assailant.

Another murderous affray to chronicle this morning, and one of the most dastardly that has been perpetrated for some time, having no cause or provocation for its basis. A negro cuts a white man five times and escapes, as is usual in such cases, and very little effort making to arrest the culprit. Last evening about nine o'clock a man named Daniel Mansfield, residing at No. 31 Craig street, Allegheny, was crossing the suspension bridge to go to his home. Unfortunately for him, he had a couple of rat terrier dogs with him. These little animals, it appears, barked at a white woman that was being escorted by a colored man, also going to Allegheny. As the man was passing he made the remark to the colored man "that the dogs barked at his lady." At this the negro got excited and gave one of the dogs a kick. This seemed to incense Mansfield, who remonstrated with the negro for his cruelty, when he in great anger turned upon the speaker with a razor. He slashed around vigorously, inflicting five terrible cuts upon the unarmed man, before he desisted. The injured man made great outcry, but strange as it may appear, no one heeded him, and no one came to his relief, though crowds of people were passing at the time, coming from the Allegheny park, and the cars that were passing being filled to the utmost, yet no man heeded the injured man's cries. The officer of the bridge, whose duty it is to be out on the bridge, was sitting in the office on the Allegheny end of the bridge, according to his statement, and he heard the cries three minutes before he went out, and then he went under the bridge, thinking the cries originated there. The negro, in all this excitement, had a good chance to make his escape, and he did it most effectually. Some say he ran towards Allegheny and turned back, while others positively state that he ran over to this side. Suffice to say, however, that he made good his escape with very little chance of his recapture. The injured man, with assistance, managed to walk over to Dr. Huselton's office, corner of Robinson street and Federal, Allegheny, where he had an examination of the wounds made, and had them dressed. The cuts are five in number. Two of them are on the left side, one is immediately over the twelfth rib, and is six inches long. The other is not so long, but more severe, and is between the eleventh and twelfth ribs. Another wound, on his left cheek, is a most terrible one. This extends from his eye down to his chin, cutting clean through the cheek into the mouth and through the gums. This cut is fully eight inches long. The other two cuts are, one, a very severe injury across the left arm, and the other, nearly severing the thumb of the same member. The man bore his wounds like a hero, and laid down on the floor and had the doctor dress them without a murmer, though he was fast losing strength from over excitement and loss of blood. The extent of his injuries can be better judged when it took twenty-eight silk stitches to sew up his wounds. After he had received the proper attention he fainted away from loss of blood. The physician had a carriage procured and had the man taken to his home. He appeared like a quiet, inoffensive Scotchman, probably about thirty-five years of age, a working man, is married, and has a family depending upon him for support. The razor that the cutting was done with was found shortly after the affair was over. It is a convex razor, badly hacked, apparantly from striking the teeth and ribs. It was rather old, but possessed a very keen edge, showing that it had been very sharp. The cuts on the injured man would also tend to show that, as they are clean, and laid open the flesh in a most fiendish manner. Dr. Huselton thinks that the man may recover. That the wounds are not necessarily fatal. But that if internal inflamation sets in, of which there is some danger, the injuries may prove fatal.

Success as a Criterion.

"By their fruits ye shall know them." An old biblical truth, that applies as well to-day as in generations past. It may appropriately be applied to the Weekly Savings' Bank. This sterling institution, though young in years is firm on the true road of success, and it is all through the honest efforts of competent officers. After six months regular existance it is able to declare a dividend of five per cent. Surely such a showing needs no comment, it speaks for itself. This dividend is payable on and after September 1st, when the Bank removes to its new quarters No. 61 Fourth Avenue, in the office once occupied by McLean & Co.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
MUNICIPAL HALL,
PITTSBURGH, August 6, 1873.

Proprietors Pittsburgh Tar Chemical Works:

GENTLEMEN—Your note of July 30th, asking for an opinion as to the merits of your "Carbolate Powder," as a disinfectant, has been received.

I am directed to inform you, in reply, that having tested your "Carbolate Powder," the Board of Health can cordially recommend it to the public as a cheap and effective deodorant and disinfectant. Very truly yours,

CROSBY GRAY, Health Officer.

It is hardly necessary to add anything to the above. The fact that the Board of Health recommends for general use the Carbolate Powder will convince all of our readers that it is in every respect fully what it is claimed to be. It should be in every house, and freely and plentifully sprinkled wherever a disagreeable odor can be detected. In view of the probability of the approach of cholera every precaution should be taken to ward it off, and nothing can be more effective for that purpose than the Carbolate Powder recommended above.

A Hint to Housewives—How to Keep Kitchen Ware Clean and Bright.

Every housewife of neat and tidy habits takes especial delight in keeping all the tin, copper, and iron ware of her kitchen as clean and bright as painstaking labor can make them. A pride in this direction is commendable, and always meets the smiling approval of the "tyrant man" who pays the household bills. Remember that SAPOLIO is the only thing on earth that will make an old tarnished tin pan or a rusty kettle shine as bright as new. And by the use of Sapolio it is the quickest and easiest thing in the world to keep every utensil in a high state of polish. d&S

ADOPT THE PREVENTIVE POLICY.

Severe spells of billiousness, indigestion, chills and fever, diarrhœa, nervous headache and physical exhaustion are quite usual at this season. These are visitations which everybody is anxious to avoid, and as a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will unquestionably fortify the system against them, the most valuable medical advice which can be offered at this time to persons subject to such complaints or at all sensative to atmospheric changes, is to commence taking this powerful vegetable alterative and invigorant without delay. Forty-eight hours will not have elapsed after the first dose before a marked change will have manifested itself in the condition of the system. The ultimate result will be a habit of body so regular, a genial condition so vigorous, that however unhealthy the season may chance to be, the system thus refreshed and reinforced will be in the very best possible trim to encounter it.

COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

Arrest of a Negro for Trying to Shove the "Queer."

Reuben Davis, a colored man, was arrested yesterday for attempting to pass counterfeit money. He went into a cigar store opposite Municipal Hall on Smithfield street, and, purchasing three cigars for fifty cents, tendered a ten dollar bill in payment. The proprietor noting the unusual circumstance of a colored man investing in such choice brands of the weed, thought it quite probable that something was wrong, and he accordingly stepped across the way to the Mayors office, and, exhibiting the bill to Detective Cupples, asked him what he thought of it. After an examination the detective pronounced the note to be counterfeit, and going over he arrested the negro, finding on his person a number of cigars, which is pretty good circumstantial evidence that he did not want anything to smoke as badly as he wanted to get rid of the bill. In reply to questions Davis said that he was gambling on Saturday night, and won the money from two steamboat hands. Subsequent investigation, however, developed the fact that he had obtained the bill at the saloon of John S. Hollinger on Liberty street. He had been at work there on Saturday, and seeing the note lying neglected on a shelf near by where the proprietor had placed it in order to keep it from being given out he concluded to take care of it, and it is alleged slipped it into the depths of a capacious pocket. He will have a hearing this morning before U. S. Commissioner McCandless.

AUCTION SALES.

Valuable Leasehold
Business Property!
AT AUCTION.
Six Business Houses,
DIAMOND STREET,
PITTSBURGH.
ON MONDAY, AUGUST 25th, 1873,
AT 4 O'CLOCK,

Will be sold on the premises, that block of new business buildings erected on the south side of Diamond street, above Smithfield street, and directly opposite the site selected for the erection of the new Government buildings. There are six properties, each lot fronting 20 feet on Diamond street and extending back 110 feet to an alley.

Each building is 20 by 60 feet, three stories high and cellar. There is separate entrance to the upper stories. The lease extends 23 years from April last. The annual ground rent for the first two years is $8.33 a lot; for the next five years, $25; for the next eleven years, $100, and for the next five years, six per cent. on the appraised value of the ground alone.

This sale presents extraordinary attractions to capitalists who desire to have a secure investment, with the certainty of steady increase; and also to the business man who may wish to buy a property and avoid the payment of rent.

The location is well suited for nearly all kinds of business, being in the central and busiest part of the city.

It is also sure to receive a great stimulus by the erection of the new Government buildings immediately opposite. The ground floors will make good stores or warehouses, and the second and third stories make capital offices, which will rent well in this vicinity. The many useful and profitable purposes to which these buildings can be applied will be apparent to those who will exercise good judgment in a careful examination of the premises and neighborhood, presently and prospectively.

The buildings will remain the property of the lessees at the end of lease.

TERMS OF SALE.

One-third cash, the balance in two yearly payments, with interest.

One house will be sold with the privilege of taking all. Any further information can be procured from
